

Planes Strafe South

Slip In Over Border, Hit Viet Village

SAIGON (AP) — Two jet planes that knifed in from Laos bombed and strafed the South Vietnamese village of Lang Vei near the Laotian border Thursday night, killing 83 civilians and wounding 200, the U.S. command announced today. The raiders' identity remained undetermined.

One American spokesman said the planes were presumed to have been American or South Vietnamese. But there was speculation the Communists may have staged it as their first air strike into South Vietnam.

"I would say that the possibility of that (as a Communist blow) is so far out it can be discounted," said a U.S. Air Force officer in Da Nang, "but it is possible."

Capt. J. Duffy, 28, San Diego, Calif., who commands a Special Forces Camp that overlooks Lang Vei from a hill 500 yards away, said he could not determine the make of the planes, but they were delta-winged.

The Soviet-designed MIG jets that make up the bulk of North Vietnam's air force have this type of swept-back wings.

A U.S. Air Force officer said the only delta-winged American aircraft operating in South Vietnam is the Air Force's F-105.

"It is strictly an air defense bird and there were no F-105s in the area," he said.

The bombs and fires they set off destroyed about 100 of the thatch, bamboo and wooden houses over a 400-yard path within the village. It has been home to about 2,000 people, mostly Montagnard mountain tribesmen.

If this was an accidental bombing, it would be the worst such tragedy announced so far in the war.

The bombing took place five hours after a U.S. helicopter was shot down in the area and was carried out virtually under the noses of the Special Forces men stationed on a hill above the village, which is named Lang Vei.

criticizing the Kennedy speech, saying that "letting up the military pressure on North Vietnam is the most dangerously tragic thing we could do." (UPI)

Judge Denies Hoffa Any Added Time

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — A federal judge today denied a request for Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa to be allowed additional time to get his affairs in order before entering prison.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge Frank W. Wilson issued a memorandum saying Hoffa did not give sufficient cause to delay his commitment to prison March 7.

Hoffa sought a delay until April 1 — the day after the Teamsters contract with the 11,000-member national trucking industry expires.

Wilson, in his opinion, took cognizance of the pending negotiations, but said the court did not believe Hoffa's continued freedom would "materially alter the situation."

Wilson said a formal order would be entered in accordance with his opinion today.

"It is apparent that the defendant is a person presently having large responsibilities in many areas," Wilson wrote.

Grant To Knob Noster

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Health, Education and Welfare Department announced today allocation of $506,588 to Knob Noster, Mo., Reorganized School District R8 for maintenance and operation expenses. The allocation went to the school district because it is called on to educate children of federal employees who live on, or work on, tax-exempt property.

All Number Dialing For City In '68

All telephone numbers in Sedalia and LaMonte will change from TA6, TA7 and D17 to 826 and 827 in July, 1968, James Mayes, manager of Southwestern Bell, has announced. He said that for example the number TA6-9800 will change to 826-9800.

This new telephone numbering plan is known as All Number Calling and is necessary because of the tremendous growth in the number of telephones. Telephone companies would eventually run out of suitable numbers if they did not convert to All Number Calling, Mayes said. About three-fourths of the telephones in the United States have already been converted to All Number Calling.

Mayes said that beginning March 1, 1967, and during the period before the changeover, new customers and customers who request moves or changes requiring a number change will be asked to accept an all-number number. This, of course, will result in many telephone users having all numeral numbers before the date of the full conversion.

"We are converting to All Number Calling in this manner because we don't want to inconvenience our customers," Mayes said. "This gives everyone sufficient notice, and at the same time, enables new customers and those having number changes to adopt the number prefix now."

Mayes emphasized that the prefix is the only part of the telephone number that will be affected. The location of the all number prefix on the dial will be the same as the present prefix and telephone customers will continue dialing exactly as they do now.

This changeover is part of a Southwestern Bell Program to convert all telephones in the states served by the company to All Number Calling gradually over the next few years. It is anticipated that this standardization will eliminate many dialing errors now caused by confusion of the letter "O" and "zero," and the letter "I" and the digit "1".

"All telephone users in Sedalia and LaMonte will be notified of the conversion to All Number Calling by letter," Mayes said. "Persons who plan to order stationary and other printed materials on which telephone numbers are carried should keep in mind that their prefix will change in July, 1968."

Use Proper Covers On Trash Truck

Pettis County Sheriff Emmett Fairfax issued a warning today for persons or contractors hauling trash to the city dump on South Highway 65, pointing out that all vehicles hauling refuse or anything else must be covered while using state or county roadways.

Fairfax said his office had received numerous complaints from residents and business firms in the area, all stating that items ranging from paper to limbs was being strewn along the highway.

Most of this is due, Fairfax said, to the fact that vehicles hauling refuse to the dump are not properly covered.

If that form of carelessness does not abate, he added, haulers would be liable to prosecution and possible fine on conviction. Fairfax said callers reported spending a considerable amount of time each day cleaning their premises from trash. The material is apparently falling on the highway, yards and business driveways and was labelled an "every day occurrence."

Thant, Viet 'Meeting' Conjecture

RANGOON, Burma (AP) — Two members of a high North Vietnamese delegation left for home today amid reports in diplomatic circles they met secretly with U.N. Secretary-General U Thant Thursday.

Earlier, informants had predicted a meeting today with Thant, who is on a vacation in his native Burma. Thant was reported resting at the state guest house and could not be reached for comment.

Shrugging off speculation that the mission might have something to do with peace talks, a North Vietnamese spokesman stuck to the story that the delegation was making a routine check of Hanoi's embassy.

The two who left are the head of the delegation, Col. Ha Van Lau, his government's chief representative to the International Control Commission, and Nguyen Tu Huyen, a Foreign Office official.

The third member of the mission, Consul General Le Tong Sun, remained in Rangoon. The mission arrived last week.

A U.N. spokesman repeated Thant's statement that he would comment, if warranted, on leaving for New York Saturday night.

File For Election

C. W. Hurr and David Martin have filed for re-election for three-year terms on the Sedalia 200 School District Board, and James Steele, 1110 West Fourth, has filed for election. He has not held the position before. The election is set for April.

Johnson, Kennedy Escalate Differences Over Bombings

Dirksen Accuses RFK Of Treating Efforts Lightly

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and New York Sen. Robert F. Kennedy have escalated their differences over the bombing of Vietnam, and a Republican senator said Friday Democratic politics should not be permitted to enter into war settlement efforts.

"It would be unfortunate," said Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois, "if Democratic politics were to enter into something as serious as the settlement of a tragic war."

Viet Nam At a Glance

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

SAIGON — The U.S. Command says 83 South Vietnamese villagers were killed and another 200 wounded in the aerial bombing of a village near the Laotian border. One U.S. spokesman says the planes are presumed to have been American or South Vietnamese.

SAIGON — Informed U.S. sources say North Vietnam has massed a possible invasion force of some 35,000 men along the 17th Parallel separating the two Vietnams.

WASHINGTON — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy calls for a halt in the bombing of North Vietnam to open the way to peace talks, but Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U.S. commander in Vietnam, reject all such proposals. As Kennedy speaks to the Senate, Sen. Henry M. Jackson makes public a letter from President Johnson praising and defending the air war against North Vietnam and standing on his refusal to suspend it.

WASHINGTON — U.S. Defense Department figures show that American combat deaths in Vietnam are increasing at a rate that nearly matches the increase in Communist losses.

WASHINGTON — The House of Representatives votes another $4.5 billion to keep the U.S. military going in Vietnam.

RANGOON — A meeting is predicted between U.N. Secretary-General U Thant and a North Vietnamese delegation which arrived in Rangoon last week.

MOSCOW — President Nikolai V. Podgorny reaffirms Soviet support of Hanoi's demand that the United States end bombing and all other military action against North Vietnam as the condition for peace talks. But he makes no new terms as a result of U.S. artillery and naval shelling of North Vietnam and the mining of North Vietnamese rivers.

North Viet Invasion Force Eyed

SAIGON (AP) — The North Vietnamese army has built up a possible invasion force of some 35,000 men along the 17th parallel separating North and South Vietnam, informed sources said today.

The sources said three Communist divisions are in the area — one immediately north of the demilitarized zone dividing Vietnam and two operating from the six-mile zone or the adjoining South Vietnamese province of Quang Tri.

The North Vietnamese have maintained two divisions in this area for several months, intelligence officers say. The additional division apparently moved to within striking distance of the border within the past 30 days, the sources said.

The disclosure was made shortly after Gen. William C. Westmoreland in a statement said U.S. forces must continue bombing North Vietnam as long as Hanoi continues to move large numbers of troops and war supplies southward.

The U.S. military command in Vietnam said that to halt the bombing now would increase the loss of American lives and probably prolong the war.

Highway 50 Payments Notice Out

A notice of payment of awards totalling $15,250 made by the Missouri State Highway Commission concerning property along Highway 50 from Limit to the city limits was made in Circuit Court here Thursday.

The payment, made to the Circuit Clerk's office, includes appraisals in sums ranging from under $100 up. The payments are based on the appraisals made by James C. Keck, James W. Ripley and W. A. Schien, court-appointed commissioners.

The procedure is one of several preliminary moves involved before construction on the widening of that section of highway, announced in plans by the Highway Commission last year, can get underway. The various parties named in the circuit court notice, which was mailed out, can collect the sums allotted under the appraisal. That does not, however, close the case.

Sweet Springs Man Placed On Probation

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A Sweet Springs, Mo., farmer was placed on probation for hearing today for feeding corn he had pledged as security for federal loans.

Elmer Eckhoff, 42, had pleaded guilty to a charge of converting 4,725 bushels of corn to his own use. He had placed the corn as security for two loans, totaling nearly $8,000, to the Commodity Credit Corp.

He appeared before Judge William R. Collinson of the U.S. District Court for sentencing.

Vote Funds To Finance Viet Fight

Reject Anti-Bomb Declaration Offered To Curb Operations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has rejected an anti-bombing declaration and voted $4.5 billion to finance Vietnam fighting.

After a sometimes fiery 4½-hour debate the House approved by voice vote Thursday the military authorization bill asked by President Johnson. The Senate passed a similar measure Wednesday.

Minutes before the showdown vote, the House defeated 372 to 18 an amendment by Rep. George E. Brown Jr., D-Calif., that would have banned use of the funds to finance military activities "in or over" North Vietnam.

A Senate-House conference committee will hammer out minor differences in the versions of the money measure.

While House debate swirled around Vietnam, the Senate unanimously approved the nomination of Ramsey Clark as attorney general and argued the merits of a pending congressional reorganization measure.

Elsewhere in the capital, the President's Social Security proposals drew Republican fire at a House Ways and Means Committee hearing. And a number of senators expressed pleasure at Johnson's announcement that Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin has agreed to talks on ways to curb the U.S.-Soviet nuclear arms race.

Chairman L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., of the House Armed Services Committee led opposition to the amendment banning use of the $4.5 billion for bombing North Vietnam.

Plan GOP Caucus In City March 7

The Republican Party will hold open Ward and Precinct Caucuses at 7:30 p.m. March 7, in each Ward for the purpose of nominating delegates and alternates to the Republican City Convention at the following places: First Ward, Mark Twain School; Second Ward, Washington School; Third Ward, Whittier School; Fourth Ward, Horace Mann School.

The Republican City Nominating Convention will follow the Ward Caucuses March 10, at 7:30 p.m. in the Assembly Room at the Pettis County Court House, to nominate and ratify candidates for Council from each ward to be elected in the April 4 election.

Teenagers Shot

Killed Kneeling Against a Wall

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Every available officer joined today in a search for clues in a park where two teen-age boys were shot to death Thursday night as they knelt against a stone wall in a pavilion.

Sheriff's deputies and city police hunted for shell cartridges and the execution weapon — either a handgun or a rifle.

State trooper Glessner Davis brought in a German shepherd police dog in a vain attempt to pick up a trail of the slayer on ground covered with snow.

Officials said it appears to be a revenge slaying, and that sex was not involved.

Wayne Mullendore, 14, and his first cousin, Ronald Johnson, also 14, were forced to kneel against a wall in a shelter house in Levings Park and then shot.

Johnson was shot squarely in the back of his head. The bullet which killed Mullendore entered the rear portion of one side of his head, as if he had started to turn to face the killer. Both victims also were shot in the abdomen.

Police squads hurried to the area after an anonymous tipster — believed to be a woman — called the Winnebago County Sheriff's Office and told deputies where to find the bodies.

"To hell with them," the caller shouted over the telephone. "Just let them lay there and die."

Youngsters in the junior high school both victims attended were questioned in the hope they could help toward determining a motive.

The slaying scene is just outside the southern city limits of Rockford. It is a large park dotted with clusters of trees. The shelter area is on a hill 200 yards east of a lake.

The park is used for family and company picnics in season. The killings sent a shock through this industrial city of 104,000 in the valley of the Rock River 80 miles northwest of Chicago for the second time in a year.

In February 1966, the charred bones of 11-year-old Susan Brady were found in an incinerator in Rockford. She had been missing since Dec. 20, 1965.

Russell Dewey, 25, was convicted last August of murdering the schoolgirl. He was sentenced to 20 to 50 years in prison.

The prosecution charged Dewey killed the girl and set fire to her body. Dewey contended he killed the child accidentally when he struck her with his car.

"These were clean-cut, church-going boys," said Sheriff Herb Brown. "They had never been in any trouble. We have no idea why this happened."

The boys, both seventh-graders at Wilson Junior High School, apparently carried no money or wallets. They called a girl friend at 7:15 p.m., Sheriff Brown said, "and had to cash in five soft drink bottles to raise a dime."

Minutes later the boys went to one of their homes to pick up some phonograph records. Then they left, saying they were going to the home of a friend. They never arrived. An hour later their bodies were found.

Happy Greeting

SAN FELIPE, Mexico — As Ogden Kellogg, Sr. (R) looks happily on, a near month long disappearance and separation of Eleanor Dart, 20, and Ogden Kellogg, Jr. comes to an end as they happily greet each other at the base of 10,154 foot high Diablo Peak in Baja, California.

The couple had been missing since Feb. 5 and had become separated while climbing the peak. They were found during a massive air and ground search. They were both in good shape. (UPI)

FINDING THE WAY

Lent Look-Inward Time

By RALPH W. LOWE, D.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Wise observers of our generation say we are a people in danger of breaking under pressure.

When a public official justifies his chicanery by saying that he has done nothing worse than others, he tacitly admits a breakdown under pressure.

When a young man says, "I wouldn't have been involved in this kind of a situation but the crowd went with it and I went along," he admits to a breakdown of inner security.

So a friend asked me recently, "If you had a wife who was ill, and you had a modest salary, and you had two children ready for college, and at that moment a man offered you a bribe of a half million dollars, do you know what you would do?" Since no man has put me under that pressure I can only surmise. The question is valid, for we are all under one kind of pressure or another.

The story of Jesus' temptation is the recounting of a man under pressure. The possibilities of selling out his mission for personal satisfaction, for political pressure or for a testing of the limits of faith are obvious. Had he compromised his mission at this point, his understanding of the grace of God would have been weakened.

Take away that inner resistance and a man crumples under external pressures. History is filled with the stories of institutions, civilizations or personalities which were only empty shells, facades of strength and respectability until some power huffed and puffed and blew the house down.

The way we keep Lent is quite incidental to the fundamental necessity of re-examining our lives, discovering what grace is effective and meaningful, and what inner security can enable us to withstand the fearful pressures to which modern man is subjected. Hemingway once said that "courage is grace under pressure." That is demanded not only of men in battles but of every person who would lead a meaningful life.

If business demands that a man travel regularly, leaving a wife to serve as mother-father for the family, there are pressures on the mother, the father and the children.

If gadgets and affluence seem to give a person a sense of importance, then there are pressures which demand a quality of grace to withstand that kind of artificial security.

If people are enslaved by poverty, then there are pressures which only those who understand such frustration can understand and a particular grace is required.

Either we are victims or victors. Lent is a time for re-examination for we had better know new dimensions of the grace of God. And open our lives to receive it.

Bishops Will Give Answer To Complaint

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

American Roman Catholic bishops are expected to reply this spring to a Vatican department's complaint — circulated to all national episcopates — that "dangerous opinions" are abroad in the church, downgrading papal authority and transgressing certain doctrines.

That prickly type of question was no rarity among the churches today. Versions of it sprang up spasmodically across the ecclesiastical scene. Among instances of it:

A Presbyterian group charged official moves to undermine the Bible. A Catholic professor accused colleagues of heresy. Some Methodists claimed "false leaders" are distorting the faith. An Episcopal bishop was censured.

Aside from specific cases, the Rev. Dr. Robert T. Handy, a noted church historian of Union Seminary, says, "Work to advance theological thought and Biblical scholarship almost always encounters initial fears and condemnations."

As another clergyman put it, innovators in the past sometimes "got burned," but now they just "get fired."

"When changes multiply around us, so do the tensions," says a Catholic theologian, the Rev. John G. Milhaven, of Woodstock College, Md. But historically, "deepened understanding has come out of the interaction of position and opposition."

Whatever the merits of some of the current rethinking, it rolled through the Christian domain, setting off heavy doctrinal rumblings. While it was reflected outwardly in restyled methods, it emanated from deeper strata.

It involved, in some cases, basic teachings — about birth control, about concepts of Biblical and papal infallibility, the Lord's Supper, human creation and original sin, revelation and the nature of God himself.

There are areas "in which some, in an effort to modernize Catholic doctrine, have modified it," the Rev. Ralph Gorman says in the Passionist weekly, the Sign, warning against extremes both of opposing any change and carrying it too far.

Protestantism also yielded a mixed interpretative crop. The Rev. Dr. Albert Outler, of Southern Methodist University's Perkins School of Theology, says:

"We stand in the midst of a noisy spasm of theological colic and iconoclasm that obscures the broader and solidier enterprises that are still going forward." A catch-all phrase, "the new theology," labeled the ferment. Mainly, it had to do with a probing through rigid church legalisms, set formulas, stock answers and scholastic definitions to try to get at Christ's prime message behind them.

To varying degrees, the impulse affected Protestantism, Orthodoxy and Catholicism. Its expositors said it implied a more modest, listening approach to Christian rudiments and their human imperatives in today's world.

"It does no good nowadays to give the boys the old stuff from the manuals," a noted Catholic professor, the Rev. Walter J. Burghardt, remarked at a church conference. "They will simply tune you out."

The developing focus, he said, is on "person as set over against thing," on "reality in relation to living persons rather than reality somewhere 'out there,'" on personal relationships with one another and to the divine person through the

Historic Price Paid For Paper

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Samuel I. Newhouse has purchased the Cleveland Plain Dealer — reportedly for $50 million, the highest price paid for a single newspaper in the history of American journalism.

The short and peppery 72-year-old Newhouse now has 22 newspapers coast to coast, counting morning and evening papers in the same city separately but not counting Sunday editions. Their total circulation is about 3.3 million.

The Plain Dealer — Ohio's largest morning paper with a circulation of 377,089 on weekdays and 526,401 on Sundays — is now the largest in the Newhouse newspaper group.

Newhouse, eldest of eight children of Russian immigrant parents, also owns television and radio stations and magazines.

A source close to Newhouse, who began to acquire control of newspapers 56 years ago, said today he is still in the market for another good newspaper publishing proposition.

Newhouse started running newspapers at the age of 16, when he was put in charge of the rundown Bayonne (N.J.) Times. He soon had the paper in the black.

The 125-year-old Cleveland Plain Dealer, which employs about 2,200 persons, announced sale of the paper Thursday. No price was announced.

The reported $50-million price tag broke a record set by Newhouse in 1962 when he paid $41 million for the New Orleans Times-Picayune and the New Orleans States-Item.

Although complicated tax rulings remain to be clarified, Newhouse reportedly purchased 91 per cent of the 100,000 shares of Cleveland Plain Dealer stock at $500 a share with an agreement to buy the remaining 9 per cent at the same price — for a total of $10 million. He is said to have financed the purchase partly through banks and partly from his own resources.

Newhouse has made it a practice to leave the editorial and personnel management of the newspapers he acquires in local hands, and the practice will be followed at the Cleveland Plain Dealer following its purchase from the Forest City Publishing Co.

Five-Year-Old Boy Dies In Home Fire

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A 5-year-old boy who was watching television with his mother died Thursday when fire of unknown origin swept the home at 2612 Gilham Road.

The victim was Patrick Burger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Burger.

John J. Logan, battalion chief, said the mother told him the boy went to the kitchen for a drink of water, then ran out of the kitchen and into a bedroom. She said she saw flames in the kitchen and tried to get to the bedroom but the heat was too intense.

Firemen brought the boy out. He died about two hours later in a hospital. "He probably was asphyxiated," the chief said. "There were no charred spots or blisters on the body."

Accidents

Trooper Richard Joos investigated two minor accidents on North Highway 65, near the D and J junction, Thursday morning. Property damage was reported in both cases. Each accident involved only one vehicle.

Joos received the first call at 10 a.m. Thursday. His investigation for the Highway Patrol revealed that a 1966 Volkswagen driven south on the highway by Hazel M. Klar, 49, Columbia, left the highway after what she termed a "strong gust of wind" caught the vehicle, pushing it out of control.

The car was towed to Sedalia by Bacon's wrecker.

While Joos was investigating this accident, a passing motorist informed him of another accident north of the first one. The time of the second mishap was set at about 10:25 a.m.

Involved here was a 1966 Chevrolet driven north on the highway by Bryan C. Casey, 20, Kirksville, Casey, according to Joos, reported that as he crested a hill he pulled slightly to the right. The wheels of the car dropped off the pavement.

After getting back onto the road, the car crossed the highway, collided with an embankment and stopped in the ditch on the west side of the road.

Boy, a Pencil Sharpener!

A panel discussion on television by four members of the General Assembly reviewed activities of the current session in Jefferson City. The moderator asked for opinions about the proposed pay raise for legislators.

To a man they expressed opposition to it in its present form which already has been juggled downward. The original figure was an increase from $4,800 to $9,600.

Most of the rural legislators are against an excessive increase and blame the metropolitan assemblymen for promoting one. The idea of a big increase seems to be based on what the legislators will do in the future if they are on the job every year and not what they are doing in the way of biennial service now; and that a higher salary will attract better talent.

It seems but yesterday we heard that poignant slogan when the people approved a constitutional change permitting legislators to raise their salaries—which they did. When they got the pay to $4,800 this brought Missouri up to 11th salary position among other states.

Recently the House voted for $9,000; then the Senate $9,600 for the senior solons and $7,200 for House members.

Some of these days a news dispatch will reveal both houses voted immoderate increases for themselves unless constituents at home pay more attention to what is going on over in Jefferson City. Whereupon we will begin to hear a lot of calamity howling; and a campaign of reprisals at subsequent elections to get rid of the rascals "who done it." The targets may be some innocent legislators who opposed an excessive salary raise in the first place.

Missouri taxpayers probably won't raise a big fuss if legislators grant themselves a moderate pay increase but they won't go along with 100 per cent increases which they started out to do.

Someone may ask, then, what is a justifiable and moderate increase? What about 25 per cent? That would hike the pay to $6,000.00.

The senate's idea that $9,600 for their members and $7,200 for House members is equitable appears like pulling the taxpayers' legs which tax-wise are painfully arthritic already.

Come on now, assemblymen, let's get that pencil sharpened and try a lower figure.

Johnson Replies Before Talk Is Made

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — It might have been just a presidential coincidence, but the timing was terrific.

There is no doubt Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., gets in President Johnson's hair with what he says on Vietnam. But, while earlier this year he must have made it look, wind-blown, Thursday he blew a gale.

Yet before the day was over Kennedy, who might have had the front pages to himself, had to share them with Johnson who butted in not once but twice.

Earlier this year, while skipping around Western Europe, Kennedy got worldwide attention with some statements he made, like saying the next few weeks would be critical in the war.

He was reported saying secret talks were going on. But he said this wasn't what he had said. He said contacts were being made. The White House said it knew nothing special about the next few weeks. And Johnson said he knew of no serious efforts by Hanoi to end the war.

Then, a sensation. Newsweek magazine must have rocked Johnson with a story saying Kennedy, while in Paris, got a peace-feeler from North Vietnam. Asked about it, Kennedy at first refused to comment.

Naturally, this raised a number of questions, one above all: Wouldn't it be strange if Kennedy could start the peace ball rolling and Johnson couldn't? Kennedy came home and saw Johnson.

After that get-together Kennedy said he hadn't brought any peace feeler. And more reports, unverified, said Johnson had bawled him out. Not long after that Kennedy let it be known he was preparing a major speech on Vietnam.

Thursday was the day he chose to deliver it. He was a cinch to make front pages. Then something happened. Maybe it was only a coincidence. But Johnson suddenly called a news conference a few hours before Kennedy's talk.

Johnson quickly announced the Soviet Union, through Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, had agreed to discuss halting the arms race. This could have been the only reason for calling in the newsmen.

But one of them, and it was certainly a convenient time for Johnson to be asked the question, raised a point about peace with Vietnam. And Johnson at once made it clear there would be no let up in the pressure on Hanoi.

But Kennedy's whole speech was to be a proposal that U.S. bombing stop for a while to see if North Vietnam wanted to talk peace. Now Johnson had answered him before Kennedy could start. Was this just a coincidence?

Later in the day a newsman told Johnson's press secretary, George Christian, "some suspicious people" wondered if Johnson had not called the news conference and made the war statement to take the play away from Kennedy.

Christian expressed innocence. And later in the day Kennedy made his speech but had hardly started before Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., a Johnson supporter on Vietnam, made public a letter from the President.

In the letter Johnson said the bombing had been effective and would continue. Was this a coincidence, too? The timing couldn't have been better, from Johnson's viewpoint.

Here he was throwing cold water on Kennedy's speech before Kennedy could finish it. Johnson's letter, dated March 1, reached Jackson at almost the moment when Kennedy began speaking.

Kennedy, it turned out, had sent a copy of his speech (before he made it) to the White House but Christian said Johnson hadn't seen it and that it was Jackson who made the decision on when to make the letter public.

Thus twice in one day Johnson answered Kennedy without anyone being able to say positively Johnson was replying to Kennedy at all. In fact, Christian said the White House would have no comment on Kennedy's speech.

This hand cost a National Championship back in the '30s. It was board-a-match team of four in which your score is compared only with the score of the pair playing the hand against your partners.

South was one of a group of experts who like to outguess themselves. He looked over dummy carefully and decided that North at the other table would be playing in six no-trump. He saw that six no-trump would not make unless declarer would pick up four heart tricks and the only way to do that would be to find East with specifically the king and one heart. So, this unlucky expert won the spade lead in dummy and led a heart to his queen. He was going to make seven hearts if he could find that king-small with East, and would still make six hearts against any 3-2 heart break.

South wasn't dismayed when West produced the king but he was rather upset when West showed out on the second heart lead. South had to go down one trick. He did explain to his partner, "It shouldn't make any difference. Our opponents will be in six no-trump and will go down two."

North wasn't at all impressed. He pointed out that the six heart contract was a very good one and that it was up to South to play safe to make it and that the safety play would have been to play the ace of hearts just to guard against a singleton king. South could not guard against four to the king by any line of play, so all the finesse did was to give some chance to make seven.

How bad was South's play? It was really bad. At the other table North and South did get to three no-trump and did make four, so six hearts bid and made would have been a winner.

60,000 In Effort For A Simpler U. S. Tax Return

NEW YORK (AP) — Of the estimated 80 million taxpayers now scratching and erasing figures on their income tax returns, some 60,000 are participating also in an experiment to simplify forms.

These 60,000, all residents of the South and West, are being asked to master a brand-new form as part of a "simplification" program.

The results, to be judged on the accuracy of the returns and on answers to an accompanying questionnaire, won't be available until late this year. However, based solely on a quick look at the "simplified" form, one hair-raising fact is immediately apparent: it is seven pages long.

The reason for the extreme length — the basic 1040 or 1040A form is one piece of paper to be filled on both sides — is that it is based on questions and answers. That is, the instructions are woven throughout as questions.

The IRS claims this, the 1040Q form, is the latest of many attempts to simplify returns. It does not claim the new form is simpler, but it hopes so. "We are not prejudging it," said Sheldon Cohen, IRS commissioner.

In conducting its simplification program the IRS is admitting to the same frustration as the taxpayer, that the tax form, though perhaps simpler than 10 years ago, is sometimes an unfathomable puzzle.

This, the IRS feels is not its fault although it is its problem. "The forms reflect the tax laws," is the standard IRS answer. As a servant, it says, it merely carries out the dictates of Congress, which passes the tax laws.

Congressmen, in turn, concede the tax laws are indeed complex but explain that so is our free and highly developed American society.

The result is that neither the American public nor the IRS are satisfied with the form — the public because it has to make it out and the IRS because it finds the form difficult to check.

And so the taxpayer has an ally in the tax collector. Because the IRS has computerized its analyses of returns and will continue to automate other aspects of its work, it needs clear, accurate, digestible bits of information.

It doesn't always get them. Thousands of returns fail to pass the first human test before they are passed on to the electronic monsters, which demand pelletized rather than mushy information. Illegible material cannot be passed on.

Even after the machines get the material more errors are found, indicating taxpayer confusion about the forms or the instructions. Close to $400 million likely will be returned to taxpayers making errors against themselves.

IRS officials hope that its seven-page "simplified" form will satisfy the taxpayer, the IRS and the electronic computers. Its attitude is one of wait and see, firm in the belief that, if need be, seven pages in place of two is a small price to pay for efficiency.

Sam Jones Takes Rug On Travels

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Sam Jones is a traveling lady who earns $60 an hour and likes to take a fur rug with her wherever she goes.

"I loathe being cold," she explained.

To keep warm on her journeys Sam has two tiger rugs, two leopard rugs, one zebra rug and three rugs made from the pelts of Icelandic ponies.

She also has a red fox jacket, a wolf coat and a raccoon coat. She also has a rather eye-catching dress made from the skins of two cheetahs.

"I also like live animals as well as pelts," she remarked. "Is that inconsistent?"

Sam — her full name is Samantha — at 22 is an internationally known fashion model. Long-boned and blonde, green-eyed and lovely, she has been photographed throughout Europe and in Mexico, Greenland, Japan, the Soviet Union, India and even Outer Mongolia.

Recently she made her motion picture debut in a film called "Wait Until Dark," starring Audrey Hepburn and Alan Arkin. She played the role of a miniskirted model who is a courier for a ring of international dope smugglers.

"I try to double-cross them, so my part in the picture isn't very big, as I get killed pretty quick," she said.

Over luncheon, Miss Jones volunteered that she had been born in Manhattan, raised in Ottawa, Canada, but preferred to live in Paris.

Miss Jones believes now that she would like to embark on a full-time career as an actress, but doesn't want to spend her life in Hollywood.

"It is just a parade of facades out there," she said. "I understand now why people in Hollywood take so long getting ready to go out in the evening. They have to fix up their facade."

"Everything there is packaged so nicely. But the people are tied in various knots, and some can see out only through the cellophane that surrounds them."

Want Students Not To Be Under Tax

RICHMOND, Ky. (AP) — Regents of Eastern Kentucky University want the City of Richmond to exempt students who work part time at the school from a one per cent payroll tax.

President Robert R. Martin told the Town Council 1,200 students hold jobs that pay a total of $432,000 a year, but added "this is not spending money. This is the only way that many students have of staying in school."

Most students earn $8-$10 a week under a federal program that limits jobs to students from low-income families.

Believe Plot to Kill Castro Backfired

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — President Johnson is sitting on a political H-bomb — an unconfirmed report that an assassination plot against Cuban Dictator Castro possibly backfired.

Top officials, queried by this column, agreed that a plot to assassinate Cuban Dictator Fidel Castro was "considered" at the highest levels of the Central Intelligence Agency. The officials disagreed, however, over whether the plan was approved and implemented.

One version claims that underworld figures actually were recruited to carry out the plot. Another rumor has it that three hired assassins were caught in Havana where a lone survivor is still supposed to be languishing in prison. These stories have been investigated and discounted by the FBI.

Yet the rumor persists, whispered by people in a position to know, that Castro did become aware of an American plot upon his life and decided to retaliate against President Kennedy.

This report may have started New Orleans' flamboyant District Attorney Jim Garrison on his investigation of the Kennedy assassination, but insiders believe he is following the wrong trails.

This much can be verified:

1. President Kennedy was so disillusioned with the CIA after the Bay of Pigs fiasco that he swore to friends he would like "to splinter the CIA in a thousand pieces and scatter it to the winds." He ordered a thorough investigation by a group headed by Gen. Maxwell Taylor.

2. During this period, the CIA hatched a plot to knock off Castro. Whether the assassination plot was ever actually put into effect is disputed.

Castro Reacts

3. Some insiders are convinced that Castro learned enough at least to believe the CIA was seeking to kill him. With characteristic fury, he is reported to have cooked up a counterplot against President Kennedy.

4. Shortly after Kennedy was gunned down, the FBI handed President Johnson a memo reporting that Cuban leaders had

Looking Backward

THE CHICAGO DAILY NEWS: Paper Clip War. — With such a big portion of the Federal budget going for defense, it's hardly surprising to find defense dollars trickling into just about every type of industry. Even so, we never would have listed the paper clip business as a defense industry until we read the other day that one producer is shipping millions of clips to Far East military depots.

"I could swear they're firing paper clips at the Viet Cong," said a company official.

It surely hasn't come to that, had as things are in Vietnam. But it figures nevertheless, that where the military goes the paper clips must follow. The more up-to-date a military service becomes, the more paperwork it requires, and our Army, Navy and Air Force are tops in that department. Which may be one reason, of course, why it takes a force of half a million to keep ahead of primitive people who don't bother to record everything in quadruplicate.

Maybe it would be a good idea to fire paper clips at the Viet Cong. Once they caught on and put them to proper use, they'd be too busy writing, copying and filing to cause any more trouble.

Seagren Aims For 18-Foot Pole Vault In Meet Today

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Bob Seagren aims for an 18-foot pole vault tonight in the opening session of the Amateur Athletic Union's Indoor Track and Field Championships.

Despite the newest outbreak in the AAU-NCAA feud, the two-night meet has drawn outstanding collegians, with a few notable exceptions which include Jim Ryun, Gerry Lindgren, Randy Matson and Neal Steinhauer.

Indoor record holder Seagren, from the University of Southern California, appears a near cinch to successfully defend his crown and perhaps edge closer to his 18-foot goal. He holds the mark at 17-3.

S-C Tigers To Play For Third

By Bill Maunders

Smith-Cotton met the Hickman Kewpies Thursday night in the first game of the semi-finals at the Columbia Regional Tournament. The decision favored Columbia by a 66-54 score. Tonight the Tigers meet Moberly for third position in the tourney.

Hickman controlled the first quarter completely, as well as the second. The score was 19-13 at the end of the first period and 37-25, at the half.

When the third session came around both squads discovered that the officials were pulling some strange and mysterious calls out of the hat. Disapproval was voiced by Tiger fans particularly. In spite of this handicap both teams fought a close battle during the third quarter, ending with a 14-12 score in Columbia's favor.

Two of Sedalia's top men fouled out in the fourth stanza after scoring 43 points between themselves. Nonetheless Sedalia was on top of that session's scoring 17-15.

Score by quarters:
Sedalia 13 12 12 17—54
Columbia 19 18 14 15—66
Individual scoring: Sedalia — Whitney, 12-6-30; Bell, 5-3-13; Williams, 1-1-3; Robinson, 2-0-4; Munson, 2-0-4. Columbia — Griffin, 12-1-25; Fewell, 5-2-12; Gross, 1-1-3; Vanatta, 3-6-12; Loring, 5-4-14.

Twenty-eight events are slated, 16 for men and 12 for the women, with preliminaries in the afternoon and finals starting at 10 p. m., EST.

On the opening night's program are the pole vault, long jump, high jump, 60-yard dash, mile walk, and two-mile relay for the men, with the women competing in the shot, 60, 220, mile and sprint medley relay.

Ralph Boston heads the long jump field, but the high jump poses tough competition for defending champion John Thomas who goes against Otis Burrell, John Rambo and four other seven-foot leapers.

Rambo cleared 7-3 this year at San Francisco to gain a share of the American record with Thomas, whose best in 1967 has been 7-1.

Seagren's toughest competition tonight is expected from Stanford's Jim Eshelman, who went over 16-10½ in the Golden Gate Invitational at San Francisco.

Billy Gaines, a senior at Clearview High School in Mulliken, N.J., defends his title in the 60-yard dash against challenges from Jim Hines of Texas Southern and Bobby Brown of Arkansas AM&N, who also have been clocked in 5.9, the indoor record.

Ninth Spot Difficult To Fill Up

By MIKE RECHT Associated Press Sports Writer

The ninth spot in the Los Angeles Dodger batting order every fourth day when Sandy Koufax would have pitched is going to be difficult to fill, but not as tough as finding someone to hit first every day.

"That will be the toughest spot to fill," says Manager Walter Alston. "You tell me who is going to play this year, and I'll tell you who will lead off."

The problem, of course, arose when the Dodgers traded lead-off shortstop Maury Wills to Pittsburgh for Bob Bailey and Gene Michaels after Sandy Koufax retired.

To replace the base-stealing, switch-hitting singles-hitting Wills, Alston has such possibilities as Wes Parker, Willie Davis, Dick Schofield or maybe Bailey or newly-acquired second-baseman Ron Hunt.

If Parker wins the six-way battle for first base and Michaels replaces Wills at shortstop, Parker will be the leadoff hitter, Alston indicated. Center fielder left-handed pitcher and outfielder Davis could fill the void as could utility infielder Schofield if and when he plays.

"I'd like to hit Ron Hunt second if I can find a leadoff batter," Alston says.

But Bailey continues to impress Alston. "Day in and day out," Alston says, "Bailey has been the player who has impressed me this spring. I like the way he hits to right field and the way he's been hitting the barriers. He may be one of those players who has not reached his potential yet."

While Alston was worrying over his leadoff man, pitchers Steve Barber of the world champion Baltimore Orioles and Ken Johnson of the Atlanta Braves eased the minds of their bosses.

Barber, the ace of the Oriole staff the first half of last season when he won 10 games before tendonitis sidelined him, threw 15 minutes of painless batting practice Thursday.

"Right now the arm, like the rest of me, is very, very tired," said the 28-year-old left-hander who won 20 games in 1963. "But there is no pain, no strain—just stiffness. It feels no different than in any other spring."

Johnson delighted the Braves Thursday when he worked on the mound for the first time since he underwent knee surgery six months ago to remove torn cartilage.

Pitching Coach Whitlow Wyatt said he is hopeful Johnson would be able to start when the season opens in April.

Proctor of Pasadena, Calif., challenges Boston in the long jump. Proctor has gone 26-2, further than any schoolboy ever.

The women's mile could be dominated by Seattle's Doris Brown, who claims the indoor record at 4:40.4. She'll face Marie Mulder of Washington, and Frankie Kraker of South-eastern Mich.

The upper echelon battle between the AAU and NCAA has not made significant impression on this meet although AAU President David Matlin of San Diego, Calif., has called a special news conference Saturday to explain his group's position.

Tulsa And Wichita Are In Deadlock

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tulsa's NIT-bound team and pressure-loving Wichita are tied for second place in the Missouri Valley basketball campaign, and they will decide the No. 2 spot Saturday night, with Tulsa playing at Wichita.

Lowly Drake knocked off Tulsa 62-59 Thursday night while Wichita, playing at home, squeezed by North Texas 74-73 with Jamie Thompson scoring 25 points.

This left Tulsa and Wichita at 9-4 in conference play. North Texas and Drake finished in a tie for seventh at 4-10. Louisville, ranked No. 2 nationally, won the Valley crown with a 12-2 record and is headed for the NCAA Midwest Regional at Kansas on March 17-18.

Cincinnati has finished its Valley schedule with a 6-8 record, good for a fourth place tie with the winner of the St. Louis-Bradley game at Peoria Saturday afternoon on the Valley's television network. St. Louis and Bradley stand 5-8 in the conference.

Tulsa-Wichita and St. Louis-Bradley are the only two Valley games left. Cincy goes outside the league to face cross-town rival Xavier tonight. A victory will give Cincy a 17-9 record for the season.

Willia McCarter of Drake broke a 56-all tie in the last 2½ minutes Thursday night in a tight game at Des Moines. Wichita held off North Texas down the stretch, a goal by Thompson making it 68-65 at one stage. Wichita's deadly free throw shooting offset a big North Texas margin in rebounds.

Rubin Russell of North Texas finished with 22 for 312 points in 14 Valley games.

Blancas Is Leader In Tournament

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Homero Blancas, a fun-loving Latin who has dramatic ups and downs on the golf trail, led the $100,000 Doral Open into today's second round with a record-tying six-under-par 65, but plenty of people were breathing down his neck.

Arch Foes Set For A Fight Today

VIENNA (AP) — Two Austrian archrivals were set today for a decisive battle for the men's crown at the 1967 World Figure Skating Championships.

Pressed hard by a Canadian-American phalanx, title holder Emmerich Danzer and his inseparable runner-up, Wolfgang Schwarz, took a double-barreled lead in the compulsory events Thursday to launch them safely into the free skating competition.

Danzer trailed Schwarz by 15.8 points after a somewhat shaky three-day compulsory performance, but was virtually certain to regain his supremacy on the strength of his highly-polished jumps and pirouettes.

The race for third, fourth and fifth places were wide open among Canada's Donald Knight and two Americans, Scotty Allen of Smoke Rise, N.J., and Gary Visconti, of Detroit, who emerged from the compulsory in that order.

Visconti, a 21-year-old student, had a choice program of triples and doubles to play against Knight, the surprise winner of this year's North American championships.

Allen, at 18 a veteran of three world championships, was 13.4 points ahead of Visconti, but

Will Decide Fate For Illinois U.

CHICAGO (AP) — The jury of Big Ten faculty representatives deliberated Friday the sentence for the University of Illinois, which has admitted recruiting irregularities and has asked for leniency.

Marcus Plant of Michigan, secretary of the faculty group and president of the NCAA, said he was not certain exactly when a decision would be announced. The annual March business meetings of the conference end Saturday.

University President Dr. David D. Henry, faculty representative and acting athletic director Leslie Bryan, and university attorney James Costello presented a day-long appeal by Illinois Thursday.

The session started with a 45-minute appeal from Dr. Henry for a softening of last week's mandate by the conference athletic directors that Illinois fire coaches Pete Elliott, Harry Combes and Howard Braun or show cause why the university should not be suspended or expelled from the Big Ten.

The coaches are guilty of distributing payments from an illegal $21,000 petty fund uncovered by the university in December. Dr. Henry turned all evidence over to the Big Ten, placed Elliott and Combes on a year's probation and ruled 12 football and basketball players ineligible.

judging from his practice jumps he might find it difficult to retain this position.

Time men's free skating follows Britain's 11th world title in the dance, won Thursday night in superb fashion by title holders Diane Towler and Bernard Ford. The London pair displayed a style matched only by their musical taste in a combination of waltz and the haunting tune of Zorba the Greek.

Second place went to Lorna Dyer and John Darrell of Seattle, Wash., who broke into the British phalanx leaving Yvonne Suddick-Malcolm Cannon in third and Janet Sawbridge-Jon Lane in fourth place.

In the women's division, world champion Peggy Fleming of Colorado Springs, Colo., seemed a sure bet to skate off with her second title in Saturday's free skating, grand finale of the championships.

Miss Fleming's lead from the last compulsory Thursday, totalling 1,223.4 points, can hardly be challenged by second place Valerie Jones of Canada and East Germany's Gabriele Seyfert, the European champion, who had to settle for third after a disappointing compulsory performance.

The over-all championships tally also serves as qualification for the 1968 Olympic Winter Games at Grenoble, France.

Under Olympic rules, each country is entitled to two individual competitors and two couples in each skating category. Countries with championship finishers among the first 12 may add another berth on their teams.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE with Major Hoople

Chicago On Way Toward '67 Title

BOSTON (AP) — The Chicago Black Hawks are winging their way toward the National Hockey League championship and even Coach Billy Reay is confident the club will win the Prince of Wales Trophy for the first time in its history.

"I think it would take some kind of a miracle to beat us out of it now," Reay said Thursday night after the Hawks boosted their lead to 15 points over New York in a 5-2 romp against the Boston Bruins.

"There's tremendous spirit on the club, and no one is going to catch us," Reay said. "They said we collapsed when we were beaten out in past years. However, I don't buy that. The Montreal Canadiens won by beating us in key games. This year we're not losing key games."

Five players, including Stan Mikita and Bobby Hull, scored as the Hawks followed a 6-1 rout of the Rangers Wednesday night by humbling the Bruins for the sixth straight time in Boston this season.

The Black Hawks were out-shot 33-21 by the last-place Bruins, but Chicago goalie Glenn Hall turned in a spectacular performance, grudgingly surrendering a first period goal to Ed Westfall and a tally by Wayne Connelly in the finale.

Mikita, helped by Hull, tied the count 1-1 on a picturesque power play goal in the first period. It was the NHL scoring leader's 30th goal of the campaign and hoisted his point production to 81.

Rookie defenseman Ed Van Impe put the Hawks in front to stay late in the first period. After a scoreless middle session, Chico Maki, Dennis Hull and Bobby Hull struck in the third period.

Bobby Hull, assisted by Mikita, continued his bid for another 50-goal season with his 44th.

Spotlight On Russell, Chamberlain

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Anytime the Boston Celtics and the Philadelphia 76ers are on the same court, even in a double-header, all eyes usually are on Boston's Bill Russell and the 76ers' Wilt Chamberlain.

But Thursday, the night really belonged to Matt Guokas, the 76ers' 20-year-old rookie, who helped boost the National Basketball Association leaders to another victory.

Guokas played 20 minutes in the game between Philadelphia and San Francisco, made 5-8 from the field, and 4-6 on the foul line and had five assists, as the 76ers downed the Warriors, 136-123.

In the first half of the double-header, the Boston Celtics survived a late comeback by the Chicago Bulls for a 114-108 victory which kept Boston 6½ games behind Philadelphia.

Guokas, who was drafted first by the 76ers and left St. Joseph's College after his junior year, has been on the bench most of the season.

Lately, Guokas has shown more aggressiveness in his play. Wally Jones, who has had four troubles in recent games, fouled out as the third quarter ended. Guokas came in and played the whole fourth quarter and helped to spark the 76ers' victory.

Guokas' spark spread to his teammates in the fourth quarter and that turned the tide. The 76ers outscored the Warriors 18-2 in a four minute period to run off with the game.

Earlier, Rick Barry, who was sidelined most of the first half by foul trouble, scored 21 of his game-leading 37 points in the third period to pace the Warriors to a 102-95 lead.

Chamberlain scored 24 and grabbed 38 rebounds for the 76ers.

In the first game, the Celtics blew all but 4 points of their 20-point lead, but came out of danger with a series of last minute free throws. Boston led 97-77 at the end of the third quarter, and coach Bill Russell began calling in substitutes.

Several New Hall of Fame Men Named

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Seven new members of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Basketball Hall of Fame were announced today by A. O. Duer, NAIA executive secretary.

Selected for his outstanding achievements as a coach was Jack Horenberger, athletic director at Illinois Wesleyan University, Bloomington, Ill. He retired as a coach in 1965.

Three former players were named. They are George King, a graduate of Morris Harvey College, Charleston, W. Va., now head basketball coach at Purdue University; E. C. O'Neal, Arkansas Polytechnic College, Russellville, Ark., and William (Matty) Matteson, Stephen F. Austin State, Nacogdoches, Tex.

In the category of meritorious service, the NAIA named: Dr. Francis Hoover, Appalachian State Teachers College, Boone, N.C., a past-president of NAIA; Bill Mokray, promotions director of the Boston Celtics, and Rev. Paul Smith, former athletic director at Rockhurst College, Kansas City.

In addition to the Hall of Fame awards, which are to be presented at a luncheon here, four awards of merit were made for contributions to NAIA through news media.

Recipients are G. V. Bourrette, Kansas City, who has been public address announcer since the NAIA tournament started in 1937; Bill Grigsby, Kansas City, who has broadcast tournament games for 16 years; Frank Litsky, New York Times sports writer, and Don Newburg, sports information director at Sul Ross State College, Alpine, Tex.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: The other evening I was with a group of new friends. Most of them did not know I was a registered nurse. Two of the women present do volunteer work in a hospital. For no reason they began to speak in an unbelievably vicious way about nurses.

One woman said, "All nurses are sadists. The reason they go into nursing is because they enjoy seeing people suffer. They take delight in witnessing grief and pain and death. They are hard-boiled females without a single decent emotion."

I was shocked. I recalled the times I had gone home heart-sick after trying to console anguished parents who learned that their child had an incurable illness. I recalled the times I was moved to tears by the death of a young husband or the agony of a mother who had given birth to a stillborn baby.

How can people say nurses are sadistic and hard-boiled? Why did these women speak so disparagingly about some of the finest people in the world?—R.N.

Dear R. N.: Because the clanderers are unhappy and unfulfilled failures. People who are unable to build something must destroy something. Forget about these miserable wretches. They are not worth your wrath.

Dear Ann Landers: I have been reading your column for a long time and I am sorry I didn't pay more attention to your advice. I am 22 years old and I already know what it is to be "The Other Woman." If I could live my life over I would tell the rotten bum to get lost.

I started going with him when I was 16. He was married and I thought this made me sophisticated and glamorous. The man's wife waited three years for him to "regain his sanity," as she put it. Then she gave him a divorce. Like a fool I married him three weeks later. Now I know why he always looked so nice. His wife was a wonderful shirt - ironer. She pressed his suits and even shined his shoes. I'm just no good at valet service. He yells all the time that I am lazy—and could do better if I tried.

He never paid any attention to his kids when we were going together but now all of a sudden he misses them something awful and goes to see them four and five evenings a week—unless, of course, he is lying and going someplace else.

I am sick of this whole rotten mess and I want out before I become pregnant and get stuck. What do you advise?—LAME-BRAIN FORM ARIZONA.

Dear Lame: I hope that a divorce would not be a violation of your religious beliefs because your life sounds miserable.

I am sure your husband is as unhappy as you are and he would probably return to his family if he could unload you. See your clergyman, and good luck.

Confidential to: Bittersweet: I don't see anything sweet about your sneaky little arrangement. I see a stupid, misguided girl who is headed for a peck of trouble. I hope you will read the letter above carefully. Perhaps you will see someone you know.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Department is proposing a $4 billion-plus program to develop more than 50,000 miles of scenic roads and parkways.

"Driving for pleasure is the nation's most important outdoor recreation activity," the department commented Tuesday as it sketched details of its proposal in a report to the President's Council on Recreation and Natural Beauty.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff says he and the commanders of the other services feel the nation shouldn't lose any time in deploying a system to ward off missile attacks.

Gen. Earle G. Wheeler said Tuesday the Soviet Union probably has first-hand information on missile-killer systems that is superior to that possessed by the United States.

The Army general's remarks were made to newsmen after a closed session with the Senate Disarmament subcommittee.

of historical-literary tools in analyzing the Scriptures.

It would "shatter the very foundation of our faith," the committee claims, undercut an "infallible" Bible, and encourage church involvement in "secular problems" at the expense of "spiritual subjects."

Along with the more inquiring theological stance came the much debated, much denounced and variously construed "new morality" or "situation ethics," which stresses the overruling principle of love as against the letter of law.

Its "more radical forms" are gravely dangerous, writes a Protestant theologian, the Rev. Dr. Harvey Seifert, of Claremont, Calif., noting that no single situation or individual judgment discloses an act's full historical-social effects.

"In the new morality, love will surely be primary, because love alone can insure a person-to-person relationship with Christ," says Father Burghardt. "But even in the new morality, love will need direction."

The tempered approaches produced recurring conflicts — between mainline denominations and evangelical groups, between radicals and conservatives.

In Ohio, the University of Dayton, a Catholic institution, recently cleared four faculty members of charges by a philosophy professor, Dennis Bonnette, that they advocated heretical views, denying purgatory, deprecating papal encyclicals and favoring contraception and "situation ethics."

In exonerating them, the Rev. Raymond A. Roesch, president of the university, said it holds to a distinction between the church's "pastoral mission" and the "role of the church learning," which encourages inquiry to clarify doctrines.

A "classic whitewash," complained eight clergy and lay professors.

Often, the battle flamed on the edges of largely tranquil church life, between a vigilant old guard and the scrappy reformers of the "new breed." They came in assorted ages and dispositions.

"Some Protestants think we don't need a reformation because we had one 400 years ago," says Episcopal Bishop James A. Pike, who calls traditional definitions of the Trinity "excess baggage," more complicating than clarifying.

Jolted by the fervid pro-and-con reactions to the slap at him by fellow bishops for his doctrine-reducing platform of "fewer beliefs, more belief," the Episcopal Church in January launched a broad theological inquiry, saying:

"Neither hasty rethinking of traditional statements nor frightened questioning of those who challenge them will suffice."

A few groups have split with the denomination, forming separate "Anglican Orthodox" parishes, and charging the church has turned from "reconciling man to God" to concentration on "man-to-man reconciliation."

Pope Paul, although issuing intermittent admonitions, also said recently that the church, in the search for deepened truth, is not exempt from the "torments of doubt, of trials, of continuous spiritual movement."

U.S. bishops have designated a theological commission to frame a reply — probably in April — to a letter from Rome's Congregation of Doctrine, headed by the conservative Alfredo Cardinal Ottaviani, claiming "abuses in interpretations" in the church.

The letter, which went to all Catholic bishops last fall, claimed attacks on scriptural "inerrancy," belittling of papal authority, rejections of the "transubstantiation" concept, and spreading of "situation ethics."

French bishops in early February objected to the tone of the allegations, saying attempts to suppress "adventurous" responses given here and there "could stiffen positions, rather than resolve certain imprudent views that have come up."

A noted German theologian, the Rev. Karl Rahner, also was criticized attempts to "hush up" theological problems, adding that a "certain legalistic mentality in Rome" can't cope with them. It's not enough, he said, to offer "a mere 'no' and a monotonous repetition of traditional doctrines."

Among Protestants, a North Hollywood, Calif., Methodist laymen's group circulated charges that denominational leaders attack the Bible, try to "force integration" and water down doctrine with Christian unity efforts and "social reform instead of salvation."

Regularly, charges of doctrinal flaws were coupled with objections to the churches' work to further ethical views in community affairs or to the ecumenical movement toward Christian unity.

Much of the turmoil stemmed from efforts to retranslate concepts in contemporary forms.

The late Pope John XXIII spurred the outlook when he told the Vatican Council that the unchanging substance of truth is one thing, its time-conditioned expression another. Pope Paul has voiced the same thesis.

But tampering with familiar church phraseology could cause shock waves. Updated translations of the Bible filled the last decade with anxious outcries, which gradually subsided in the 1960's only with the flood of new translations.

In some cases, however, the reappraisals involved more than mere words or forms. "In the erudite region of dogmatic and philosophical issues, we are soon going to feel tremors for which many are not prepared," writes the Rev. Thurston N. Davis, editor of the Jesuit weekly, America.

'Gunsmoke' Will Go Off TV Screens

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "They're killin' Marshal Dillon" — so announced the headline in the Hollywood Reporter, and the news was received with disbelief.

The television trade couldn't imagine that CBS would knock "Gunsmoke" off the 1967-68 schedule after a dozen highly successful years. The show had ranked No. 1 in the ratings for several seasons and has seldom been out of the top 30; the recent Nielsen placed it No. 26.

"Gunsmoke" may well be the most profitable series for any network. Only in recent years did the network begin sharing profits with the star, Jim Arness.

Then why would CBS send "Gunsmoke" off into the sunset?

"We don't know," said producer John Mantley. "We were already in the process of preparing scripts for next season when the news broke. Of course nothing is certain in television, but the show had been holding up very well in the ratings, dipping slightly when NBC put a good movie opposite us."

I asked a high official of CBS in New York for the network's reasoning in dropping "Gunsmoke."

His explanation: "Our programming people felt that after 12 years on the network 'Gunsmoke' was suffering what they called 'program fatigue.' Virtually all the possibilities for plot development had been exhausted, and it was felt that the time slot needed something new."

The "something new" will be a show from Desilu called "Mannix." Mike Connors will star as a detective who uses his own instincts rather than resorting to computers.

Could "Gunsmoke" have overcome "program fatigue" and galloped on for more seasons?

"I think so," commented Norman MacDonnell, who with John Meston created the series and produced its first 10 years in television. "The show had gone through a number of phases, and each time it came out successfully. I almost believe it could have kept running indefinitely."

Machinists Suspend McCarthy. Officers

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The International Association of Machinists has suspended Bruce (Red) McCarthy and his officers in the St. Louis Local, a spokesman for McCarthy said Wednesday.

The local serves 22,000 members at the giant McDonnell company and is the largest local in the union.

A spokesman said McCarthy and the local will appeal the suspension to the U. S. Dept. of Labor and the grievance committee of the AFL-CIO.

The IAM in Washington notified McCarthy of the suspensions Wednesday in a telegram. Jerome Duff, an attorney for McCarthy, stated.

Duff said the telegram indicated the action was taken because the local had hired a lawyer (Duff) without having the power to do so.

Bad Week For Red Forces

Count 2,332 Killed,
1,108 Men Deserting

SAIGON (AP) — Communist forces have suffered through their worst week of the Vietnam war, with 2,332 men killed and 1,108 deserting to the Saigon government in the seven-day period up to Saturday midnight, the U. S. command announced Thursday.

Both were records in a conflict in which the kill ratio has favored the allies throughout and Viet Cong defections have risen markedly since the first of the year. Spokesmen announced 167 Americans were among 470 of the allies killed last week.

Busy Night For Sedalia Policemen

Probe Stabbing,
Mail Bag Thefts,
Car Tampering

Sedalia police were kept busy last night investigating a stabbing, the theft of articles from two cars at Holiday Inn, and the theft of a U. S. Mail pouch at the railroad depot here.

At 12:51 a.m., the department received a report that Jake Marcum, 50, Smithton, was at Bothwell Hospital for treatment of a stab wound in his left side.

Police reported that Marcum told them he was "flagged down" by two male subjects at Main and Washington. He said he stopped his car and one of the two tried to force him out of the vehicle. In the ensuing scuffle, the police report says, Marcum said he was stabbed in the upper left side.

Marcum also told officers according to the report, the two men had taken $20 in cash from him.

Hospital records show Marcum was not admitted. An investigation is being conducted.

Then, at 2:37 a.m., police were called to the Missouri Pacific Railroad depot where E. L. Borman, yard clerk, told officers a mail pouch containing first class mail had been stolen earlier that morning.

The police report shows that Borman told officers a mail truck from Clinton had arrived and was waiting for the next train to come in. The truck arrived about 1:40 a.m., Borman told police.

The report also shows that Borman believed the mail pouch to have been stolen from the truck. Police conducted a search of the area but failed to find any clues.

There were two reports concerning thefts at Holiday Inn, both cases involving cars which had been locked. In the first instance, a rifle and articles of clothing were reported stolen from a car belonging to Jay B. Smith, Denver, Colo., and in the second case clothing and other articles were taken from a car owned by John R. Penick, Booneville, Iowa.

Although no itemized list had been completed, police estimated the total value came close to $1,000.

The car belonging to Penick was entered after a window had been broken out, but Smith's car was entered after some unidentified tool was used to unlock the vehicle.

Mother Watches As Son Crashes In Plane

KEARNEY, Mo. (AP) — As Mrs. Fount McKinley Sr. watched from her front lawn Thursday, a light plane piloted by her son crashed into an unused chicken house on a nearby farm.

Fount McKinley Jr. had head and other injuries. He was reported in fair condition at North Kansas City Memorial Hospital.

His wife, who walked away from the crash and called help, was in satisfactory condition.

McKinley's mother watched as the plane circled at low altitude about a quarter of a mile away. She said a wing tip appeared to touch the ground.

The crash was about five miles north of Kearney.

McKinley is an Air Force reservist on active duty, and he was home on leave before going on an overseas assignment.

According To Search Documents

District Attorney States He Has Evidence On Shaw

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Search documents showed Thursday that Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison maintains he has evidence that Lee Harvey Oswald, Clay L. Shaw and David W. Ferrie met in September 1963 to discuss "how they would kill John F. Kennedy, President of the United States."

The documents said the evidence about the meetings came from an unnamed informant, whose statements were corroborated while the informant was under the influence of sodium pentothal, or truth serum.

Oswald was named by the Warren Commission report as Kennedy's lone assassin. Shaw, former director of the International Trade Mart here, was arrested by Garrison on Wednesday night and booked on conspiracy to commit murder. Ferrie, a pilot, died in bed last week while under investigation by Garrison's office.

In an application for a warrant to search Shaw's French Quarter residence Wednesday night, the district attorney's office stated:

"The reason and facts for the request of this search warrant are:

"Affiant has evidence that meetings were held in the apartment of David W. Ferrie at 3330 Louisiana Avenue Parkway and the people present were David W. Ferrie, Clay Shaw (alias Clay Bertrand), and Lee Harvey Oswald and an informant and other persons. These meetings were held in September 1963, and the above named individuals, namely David W. Ferrie, Lee Harvey Os-

Weed Bill Supported By Citizens

Missouri House Bill No. 59, a recent proposal for control and eradication of noxious weeds, is receiving favorable support from farmers and farm organizations, according to James Argenbright, assistant commissioner of agriculture.

The measure, which would replace the existing Johnson Grass weed control law, is broader than the present law and includes other noxious weeds besides Johnson Grass.

The new proposal was drafted by agricultural and weed control experts in cooperation with state farmers' organizations and the Missouri Department of Agriculture after these groups had studied the noxious weed control laws of other states.

HR 59 would make control and eradication of noxious weeds a state-wide requirement. However, since weed problems vary from county to county, the measure provides for Dexter D. Davis, commissioner of agriculture, to administer it through local weed control boards in each county.

Operating funds are to be obtained from a levy on the retail prices of herbicides, with at least 80 per cent of this revenue being returned to the counties on a pro rata basis.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale On Friday

Girl Scouts of Sedalia will begin their annual Cookie Sale at 3 p.m. Friday, March 3, and will continue through Saturday, March 11. Juniors, Cadettes and Senior Scouts will participate in the sale and will go from door to door with the cookies. This year Scouts will offer five varieties of cookies: the sandwich cookie, the savannah (a peanut butter cookie) and a new one called "pixie," which is a coconut macaroon type.

The cookies will sell for 50 cents a box. Each troop will keep a percentage from the profit and the remaining profit will be for use in the Heart of Missouri Girl Scout Council. As in past years, the Brownies will not participate in the sale.

Mrs. Robert Lindstrom is the District Cookie Chairman and Mrs. James Schmidt, Mrs. Dick Eckhoff, and Mrs. Barbara Zimmerman, LaMonte, are the neighborhood cookie chairmen working this year.

Russians Agree To Talks On Arms Race

Glad To Have Chance
For Such Discussions

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson announced Thursday that Premier Alexei N. Kosygin has agreed to U.S.-Soviet talks on ways to curb the atomic arms race in both offensive and defensive missiles.

"We are very glad to have the opportunity to discuss both," Johnson told a surprise news conference at which he disclosed a personal exchange with the Kremlin leader.

The President named Llewellyn E. Thompson, the U. S. ambassador to Moscow, as the American representative at discussions to be held in the Soviet capital on limiting both antiballistic missile defense systems and attack rockets.

A date for the start of the talks has not been set.

Johnson said he received a reply from Kosygin to a Jan. 27 Johnson letter which "confirmed the willingness of the Soviet government to discuss means of limiting the arms race in offensive and defensive nuclear missiles."

"It is my hope that a means can be found to achieve constructive results," Johnson told newsmen, adding that the United States wants to "be sure we couldn't get an agreement" with the Soviet Union before making a very basic, point-of-no-return decision about building a missile defense system in this country.

First, cautious reaction in the Senate was favorable toward the idea of talks.

The question of getting Kremlin agreement to hold back on deploying an expensive antimissile system has been a major Washington concern since Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara revealed last November that the Russians have begun to set up such a system around Moscow.

Administration strategists figure that if the Russians go ahead with their antimissile deployment, the United States will have to do likewise—thus sending the present atomic race between the two superpowers to a higher, staggeringly expensive level.

The Pentagon estimates a full-fledged U.S. antimissile defense could cost up to $40 billion. More than $1 billion is in the new U.S. defense budget for a missile defense system, of which $377 million for production is being temporarily held back pending the outcome of the approach to the Russians.

Caution On Warmer Weather Driving

Chief of Police William E. Miller Thursday cautioned Sedalia motorists that the advent of warmer weather would bring more children to areas used by motor vehicles and urged local drivers to exercise added care.

The word of caution followed an accident Wednesday in which a 12-year-old boy was hurt, not seriously, when a bicycle he was riding was in collision with a car.

Warrensburg Youth Killed In Accident

Former Sedalian,
Wayne E. Gentry,
In Fatal Crash

Three teenagers were injured and another killed in a one-car accident about 9:30 p.m. Wednesday on Morgan County Highway D about five miles south of Syracuse.

Killed was Wayne Eddie Gentry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Gentry, 802 Broad Street, Warrensburg. The family resided at 813 East 24th here until recently.

Injured were Miss Carol Ridge, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ridge, 803 West Market, who was reported in a critical condition at Bothwell Hospital. She suffered multiple lacerations of the face, numerous bruises and abrasions about her body. According to the hospital, X-rays indicated she had suffered a broken back. She also suffered possible internal injuries.

Two brothers, Louis Edward Richey, 17, the driver, and his brother, Marvin James Richey, 16, sons of Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Richey, Jr., Route 4, Warrensburg, were also hurt. Louis suffered a severe laceration on the top of his head, minor cuts on the face, several fractured ribs. He also complained of chest pains. X-rays revealed Louis suffered a fracture of the neck.

All Number Dialing For City In '68

All telephone numbers in Sedalia and LaMonte will change from TA6, TA7 and D17 to 826 and 827 in July, 1968. James Mayes, manager of Southwestern Bell, has announced. He said that for example the number TA6-9800 will change to 826-9800.

This new telephone numbering plan is known as All Number Calling and is necessary because of the tremendous growth in the number of telephones. Telephone companies would eventually run out of suitable numbers if they did not convert to All Number Calling.

Mayes said that beginning March 1, 1967 and during the period before the changeover, new customers and customers who request moves or changes requiring a number change will be asked to accept an all-number number. This, of course, will result in many telephone users having all numeral numbers before the date of the full conversion.

"We are converting to All Number Calling in this manner because we don't want to inconvenience our customers," Mayes said. "This gives everyone sufficient notice, and at the same time, enables new customers and those having number changes to adopt the number prefix now."

Mayes emphasized that the prefix is the only part of the telephone number that will be affected. The location of the all number prefix on the dial will be the same as the present prefix and telephone customers will continue dialing exactly as they do now.

This changeover is part of a Southwestern Bell Program to convert all telephones in the states served by the company to All Number Calling gradually over the next few years. It is anticipated that this standardization will eliminate many dialing errors now caused by confusion of the letter "O" and "zero" and the letter "I" and the digit "1."

"All telephone users in Sedalia and LaMonte will be notified of the conversion to All Number Calling by letter," Mayes said. "Persons who plan to order stationary and other printed materials on which telephone numbers are carried should keep in mind that their prefix will change in July, 1968."

Of Exclusion Of Powell

Historic Clash May Be Result

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House appears headed for a historic clash with the federal judiciary if the courts should rule that the chamber exceeded its authority in voting to exclude Adam Clayton Powell from membership.

Most congressional circles expect these two things to happen shortly: Powell will run and will win in the special election to fill his seat, and the Harlem preacher's lawyers will file federal court action to reverse the exclusion action they have already termed unconstitutional.

Several opponents of the House's exclusion action reiterated Thursday in speeches or statements their fear that the House may have made a serious blunder Wednesday in blocking a select committee's recommendation to seat but censure Powell.

"I believe that future events will prove that we made a serious mistake," freshman GOP Rep. Donald W. Riegle of Michigan told the House. And Rep. Glen R. Davis, R-Wis., predicted Powell "will soon be back — with his pocketbook and his arrogance intact."

Rep. Thomas B. Curtis, R-Mo., sponsor of the exclusion proposal, remained confident that the House would again exclude Powell if he returned sometime next month, having been elected again to the seat he has held for 22 years.

But the big unanswered question is what the House will do if the federal courts, as many expect, uphold the claim by Powell that the House acted illegally in adding his conduct to the constitutional qualifications for membership of age, citizenship, and inhabitancy.

"I think there is a substantial reservoir of people who want to ignite a fight with the court," said Rep. Arch A. Moore Jr., the West Virginia Republican who helped lead the fight to win House approval of the seat-and-censure resolution.

Moore added, "I think it is a minority."

But only last summer, the effort of a federal judge to block a hearing on antiwar groups by the House Committee on Un-American Activities brought some congressmen rushing forward to denounce the notion that a federal court could tell Congress how to run its affairs.

One irony in the whole situation is that the House, in approving the resolution of exclusion together with the findings of the select committee, may actually have bolstered Powell's prospective court case.

Windy Week in Sedalia

After every tempest comes a calm. So, let's calm down now that the wind has abated and examine the dust that's beginning to settle over a movement to abolish the Sedalia police merit system.

This proposal began to be blown up about the time those 50-mile-an-hour gusts of wind hit the community, a little premature for March winds and April showers which bring forth May flowers.

But since a little wind kindles fire, or pumps up empty bladders, we shall herewith comment on the current excitement.

We haven't heard any calamitous complaints about the operation of the police merit system in Sedalia.

But, if the merit system isn't working then it seems that deficiencies should be called to public attention by serious-minded citizens, giving specific reasons why the system is not functioning for the best interests of the community. But a briefly worded blanket indictment is inadequate and should be unacceptable to reasonable representatives of the people.

The great weakness of many complaints of brevity is a blanket indictment. The perpetual wonder is that so many fair-minded persons will support charges without inquiry concerning their real and sometimes concealed purposes.

What is the motive for abolishing our merit system? Pure speculation has it that Chief of Police William E. Miller is a target because he requested ordinances against prostitution and gambling. This reason could be merely a peg on which those opposed to the system can hang their objections. Don't forget it—there are persons unswervingly against the system even though it was approved by Sedalians in the April 1963 election. Unconvinced against their will, they are of the same opinion still — the merit system won't work; whether it is working or not.

Prior to the election mentioned above, considerable spade work was done for more than a year by the Sedalia Ministerial Alliance and others, including former Mayor L. L. Studer, to get a merit system operative here. Although the police department came under the system some months after the election, Mr. Miller, today's apparent target of some dissidents, was not appointed until over a year later. This was by reason of a provision for the incumbent to finish out his term. That was three years ago.

It is significant to mention here that in April 1963 the merit system was approved. The vote was 2,390 for and 2,075 against, a victory by only 315 votes.

This result suggests that persons in favor of retention of the police merit system should begin to assert affirmative interest in the subject today by communicating with their councilmen and Mayor Ralph Walker.

Overwhelming odds have not built up to persuade councilmen they should become executioners of a system about which no specific charges of ineffectiveness have been made.

If the time arrives when opponents can substantiate critical deficiencies, the city fathers will listen to proper discussion. But these level-headed gentlemen will not respond to pressure tactics.

A clean cut case of inadequacies must be presented without regard to sniping at Chief of Police Miller either directly or by implication.

Some members of both political parties never did and never will agree that a merit system's objective will provide more efficient law enforcement in the community. It has hardly been given adequate trial.

Taking control of the police out of politics has been a real sore point to politicians. However, they too must agree that politics and police work are not too companionable when it comes to accomplishing the purpose of crime deterrent by efficient personnel under a merit system.

Sedalia is not about to junk the merit system today.

CIA Money Creates AFL-CIO Crisis

DREW PEARSON
and JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — Inside reason why the giant AFL-CIO labor combine is on the verge of breaking up is because of Central Intelligence money secretly pumped into its "International Affairs Department."

President George Meany has denied that the AFL-CIO receives CIA money; but it does. Furthermore, part of the money is used to follow foreign policy exactly opposite to that of President Johnson.

Backstage story of the CIA battle inside the Labor Federation goes back to May 22, when Victor Reuther, brother of the President of the United Automobile Workers and head of the Auto Workers' International Affairs Department, charged that Central Intelligence money was "involved" in the AFL-CIO.

Victor stated in effect that AFL foreign affairs activities are a vestpocket operation run by J. Lovestone, who seems to have brought into the labor movement the working habits and undercover techniques which he learned elsewhere, and finds it is awfully hard to break those habits.

AFL supporters of Lovestone immediately saw red, especially Joe Beirne, head of the Communications Workers. Beirne wrote a letter to Meany demanding that Victor Reuther be disciplined. Meany referred the matter to the next AFL-CIO executive council. Walter Reuther, brother of Victor, countered by asking for a review of all the Meany-Lovestone foreign policies during recent years, which included opposition to culture exchanges with East European Communist countries and opposition to trade with Russia.

Reuther Is Slapped

At this point it looked as if there might be a bitter cat-and-dog fight between powerful labor executives just on the eve of a congressional election in which united labor support was needed for the reelection of liberal congressman.

So Walter Reuther — reportedly at the suggestion of the White House — approached Meany with a proposition that the review of AFL-CIO foreign policy be postponed until after the November election. Meany agreed. He told Reuther to propose such a resolution at the upcoming executive council meeting. "I will second it," he said.

But at the meeting, held August 22, Jay Lovestone proposed a surprise resolution which endorsed Meany's entire foreign policy for the postwar years. It was considered a double-cross of Reuther.

The vote on the Lovestone resolution was 21 to 2, with only Walter Reuther and Joe Curran, President of the Maritime Union, opposing it. President Jake Potofsky of Amalgamated clothing workers, who frequently votes with Reuther, abstained.

Meanwhile, Joe Beirne had submitted a report to the executive council attempting to slap down Victor Reuther's criticism of CIA funds.

Beirne particularly defended the American institute for free labor development (AIFLD), which has spent ten of millions of dollars in Latin America, most of it from the CIA since it receives only about $200,000 annually from the AFL-CIO and about $280,000 from business executives such as Peter Grace of the Grace Steamship lines.

Meany Gets Slapped

Earlier, Meany had tried to withdraw American support from the International Labor office because the ILO, with headquarters in Geneva, had elected a Polish President—a Communist.

The showdown over Communist labor union participation in the ILO illustrates the basic difference between Meany and Lovestone on one side, with the Reuther brothers and several CIO leaders on the other.

The International Labor Office is the oldest international organization, having been started by the League of Nations 20 years before the founding of the United Nations. For many years Communist nations boycotted it, but they affiliated in '45 when the U.N. was created. It has been the opinion of David Morse, head of the U.S. delegation to the ILO, and of Jim Carey, former head of the United Electrical Workers, that the Communist labor unions were becoming more independent of their governments and learning more toward the type of trade unionism existing in the West.

However, Meany called a meeting April 8, 1965, after the ILO had elected a Polish Communist as President, and recommended that the United States not send a delegation to the ILO that year. Carey vigorously disagreed.

"If your intention is to turn the ILO over to the Communists, okay," he said. "This is what you will do."

In snowdown vote Carey won; one of the few times Meany has been overruled. Meany agreed to go along but issued a public blast against Carey within the next 12 hours, just at a time when Carey was having election problems inside his own Electrical Workers union.

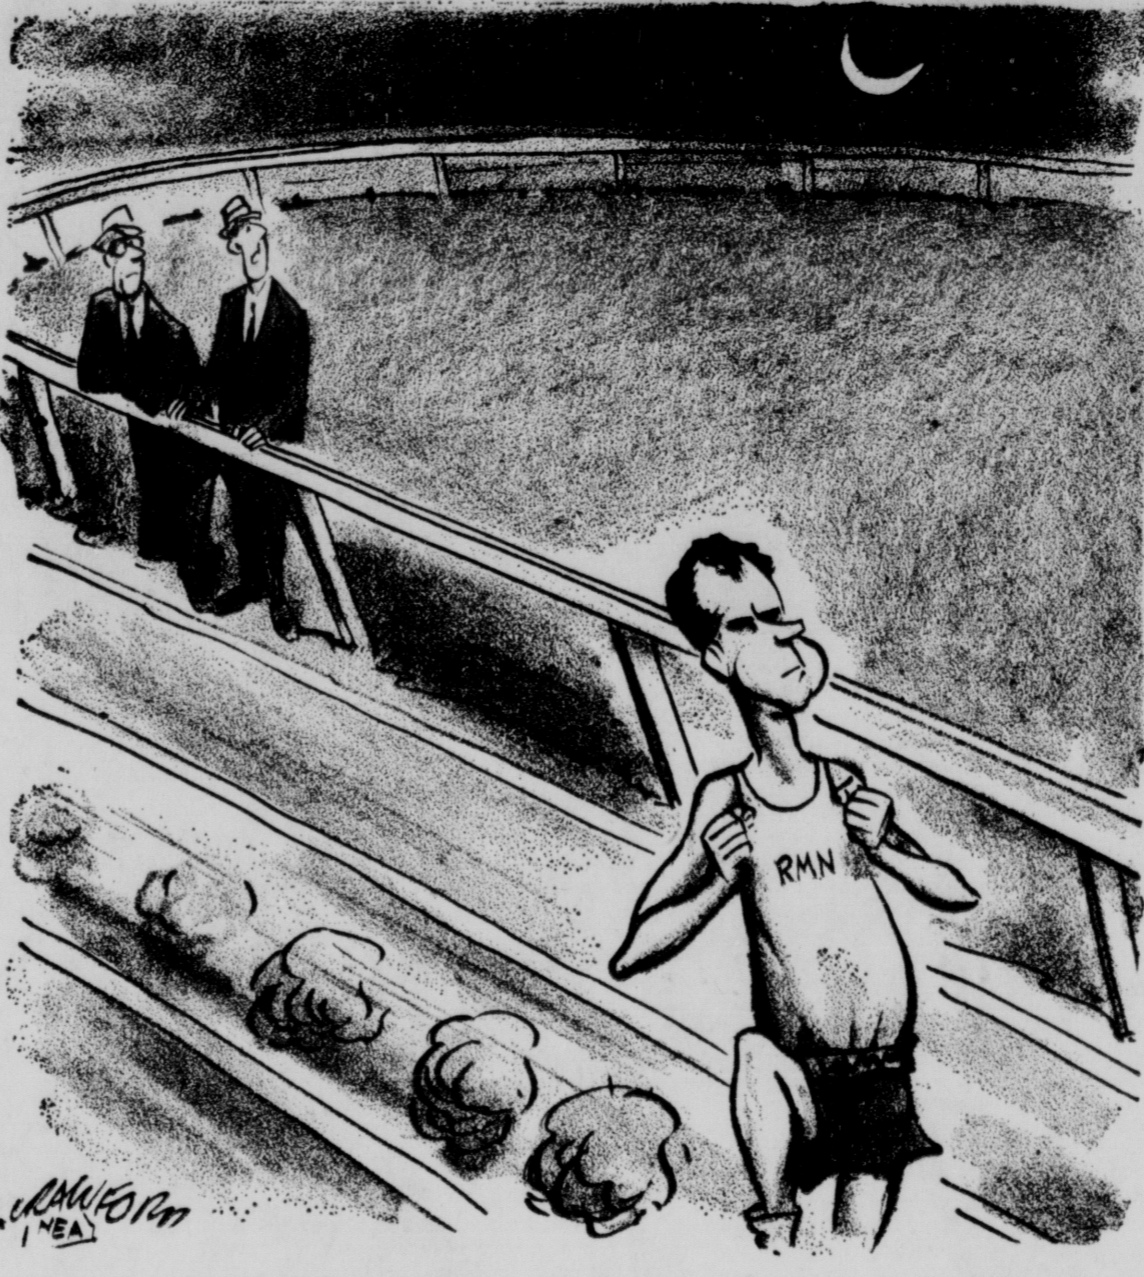

One of the gripes which the Reuther brothers have against the Meany-Lovestone-CIA foreign policy is that they swing their weight behind dictatorships in Latin America and use CIA funds to do so.

In the Dominican Republic, Meany was dead opposed to President Juan Bosch, and it was AFL-CIO confederates, backed by CIA money either directly or indirectly, who helped to oust Bosch thus contributing to the eventual landing of U.S. troops and a serious setback to the American policy of non-intervention.

Later, during the 1966 election, Meany and Lovestone again swung their influence, backed by CIA money, to defeat Bosch. He lost.

In Brazil, AFL-CIO agents, backed by

The Antique Shop

The antique shop, it seems to me
Just stimulates the memory.
I do not care, of course, to buy,
I have a houseful now, is why,
Not really old antiques, it's true,
But loads of stuff no longer new,
A few things truly quite an age
Like something from a history page.
Some bought long before my time
That maybe then cost just a dime,
Not worth so much, but then to me,
As valuable as they can be.
For to my family they were dear.
The old, old chest with its veneer,
The green pin-cushion on the wall,
The many things that I recall;
I love them, for in them I see
The ones who were so dear to me;
Yes there are many things about
But many things, too, were thrown out,
For women must redecorate,
They do not want homes out-of-date,
My folks, of course, were like that, too,
Replaced the old with something new,
And so in antique shops I see
Things so familiar once to me,
From attic, basement and old trunk
The things they once thought of as junk,
Things that they sold for just a quarter
Bring prices high from a granddaughter,
I stand a bit and ponder o'er
At some things that they use no more,
Some item there that looks real queer
Used by an early pioneer,
What they were used for, I confess,
I wouldn't try to guess,
But there are things that do remind me
Of happy days now far behind me,
The berry set of gold red glass,
The man and the horse made of brass
On top of a big clock we had,
A wedding gift to mom and dad;
The forks with a grape design,
An old doll that looked just like mine,
Familiar things are all about
And some things I can't figure out,
The hanging lamps with prisms bright
From sunshine or the coal oil light
In grandma's dining room and hall
Are things I liked when I was small;
Electric lights were in our home
And ours was a green glass dome,
I think that's what they called them then,
And now they're coming back again
A hundred things I see—and smile—
Of yesterday, now back in style,
The pendulum sweeps to and fro
As fashions come and fashions go
And all old treasures now folks seek
Because they're valued as antique,
All values now increase with age
Except the actors on life's stage,
Yes, back and forth in all these things
But never back to youth it swings,
And as we find life getting late
We're permanently quite out-of-date
But there will be a day, we know,
A new life when it will swing fro.

South Advertisises Trump Problem

By Oswald & James Jacoby
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Here is a hand from an important team match of some years back in which South played against the mathematical percentages to produce a 1,530 point swing in favor of his side. East won the spade lead and returned the ten spot. South saw no reason to finesse the jack.

His whole problem was going to be with the jack of hearts. Therefore he took the king of spades and led a trump to dummy's ace. Then he proceeded to think for a long time.

South noted that six clubs would make irrespective of the jack of hearts but he was pretty sure that the other South would also be in six hearts. He was also pretty sure that the other South would make the normal play of cashing a second high heart. This South was inclined to make the same play. It would not be criticized if it failed, whereas a second round finesse against the jack of hearts would be severely criticized if it cost the slam. This didn't worry South. He wanted to win.

South thought long enough so that he could be sure that East and West would both be aware of his problem. Then South called for dummy's six of dia-

Q's and A's On Tax Matters

This column of questions and answers on Federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — When does the law on direct filing with service centers go into effect?

A — The law requiring returns to be mailed direct to service centers will be implemented in stages. This year no individual income tax return will be required to be sent direct to the service center although in many districts returns calling for a refund can be mailed directly to the service center to speed up processing. Check page 10 of the Form 1040 instruction booklet for the mailing address you should use this year.

Q — Is it true that you don't have to provide over half a person's support to be able to claim him as a dependent? I've heard that if several people chipped in to support someone then it was up to the group doing the supporting to decide who should claim the dependency exemption. Is that right?

A — Under some circumstances that is correct.

Cases like this usually arise when several members of a family contribute jointly to the support of another member. When the other tests for claiming a dependent are met, and when several people together have provided more than half support of a person but no one person has contributed more than half, they may agree to permit one of them to claim the exemption.

To do this, the person who takes the exemption must have contributed over 10 per cent of the support and the others who contributed over 10 per cent must sign a declaration that they will not claim the exemption for that year. These declarations must be filed with the return of the one claiming the exemption.

Letter To The Editor

L. L. STUDER, (721 West 3rd) — As a past Mayor of Sedalia, I should like to congratulate and commend some groups of our citizens in their efforts to oppose a program to abolish the Merit System for members of the Sedalia Police Department.

The Merit System for our Police Department, under a Bi-Partisan Citizens Committee, composed of an equal number of citizens from the two major political parties was approved by the voters in an effort to take the Police Department entirely out of politics. This has been done and the efforts now being made by some members of both major political parties to abolish the system will, indeed be detrimental not only to the Police Department but also to the best interests of the community.

monds. East played the queen! South was on lead with the ace and played a low heart and called for dummy's nine.

South's reason for taking the unusual finesse lay in East's play of the queen of diamonds. East was not inclined to make unsound vulnerable over calls and South was pretty sure that East held the guarded queen of diamonds. He also thought that East would falsecard once. South had made sure that East knew what South's problem was. Of course, South would have looked might silly if that queen of diamonds had really been a singleton and East had held the jack of hearts.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Some of the world's worst earthquakes have occurred in China and have resulted in tremendous devastation of property and loss of life. The greatest loss of life of any earthquake was on Jan. 23, 1556, in Shensi Province. An estimated 830,000 people were killed, says The World Almanac. In modern times, an earthquake killed 180,000 people in Kansu Province in 1920.

Democrat Pick-ups

One evening a group of women decided to go out and eat. As they were walking along to a table they reached a place where there were a couple of steps and the first woman heard a terrible noise back of her. She turned quickly expecting to see one of her companions sprawled all over the floor. But no, the woman behind her was standing there with all the dignity that she always has, at the bottom of the steps.

"I lost my heel" she said calmly, looking around on the floor, "but I don't see it any place."

They all looked and they all laughed, but there was no heel to be found.

Then a waitress standing several feet back said: "You must have lost it back here," and stooped to pick up the heel.

"No I didn't," said the woman, "I would have known it if I had lost it back there."

They decided she must have caught her heel on something as she stepped down and it flew back there with the awful thud that the first woman heard.

Well, they went on and had their dinner. When they had finished they began to wonder how the woman was going to make out without her heel, but it didn't worry her in the least. She walked out on her heelless shoe with her usual grace, no limp at all, and nobody, unless they knew, would have guessed she had no heel.

Then they decided to go shopping and the first thing they did was go to a shoe store, the only one open, to see if they could put the heel on for her, but they couldn't. That didn't stop her either. She went right along with the rest, on her toe, and was the least disturbed of any of the group. She really had a wonderful time, and when they took her home they watched her trip on into the house just as if the heel was on her shoe and not in her hand, H. L.

A Sedalia business man anxious to help the Kiwanis Club with their Boys and Girls Work, bought tickets for his whole family for its recent Pancake Day.

When Saturday morning came, he hurried everybody to get ready and go down to eat pancakes. Finally when they were all dressed up and in the car he drove them down to Sacred Heart cafeteria only to find there was nobody there.

That was queer, he thought, he knew he wasn't too early, so he took out his tickets and looked at them, only to find that he was too early — a whole week too early. H. L.

Form of Altruism

We've all seen them — a card above the window of a bus asking us to "Give to the College of Your Choice"; a newspaper ad urging us to "Put Your Faith to Work Every Day"; a magazine ad promoting safe driving or equal employment opportunities or the hiring of the handicapped.

They are only a few of some 102 similar messages — from Aid to Higher Education right through the alphabet to the Zip Code — sponsored by the Advertising Council last year through the media of newspapers, magazines, radio, television, transit cards, outdoor posters and direct mail.

In the fiscal year ended last June, the advertising and communications industries contributed no less than $236 million worth of such public service advertising. All of it was donated through the Advertising Council, a nonprofit, nonpartisan organization which for nearly a quarter of a century has been demonstrating how the private sector of the economy can work voluntarily for the public good.

Is 'No' too Difficult to Say?

How are you going to keep up with them?

The transient salespeople who use high pressure and peculiar sales technique in Central Missouri. They break out like cases of measles in the most unexpected places.

A senior citizen complains of being charged a fabulous price for having tree limbs cut down; foreign termite "experts" present unreasonable bills; the solicitation by telephone technique annoys many persons.

Now Sheriff Fairfax and Prosecuting Attorney Keeler issue a joint appeal for area residents to be wary of telephone solicitors whose pitch is to sell a "specialized" insurance policy to widows.

Then there are the young girls and young men with their door-to-door magazine sales promotion who are working their way through college, or the ones planning to go to divinity school to learn how to be preachers. Talk about gimmicks and high pressure. They almost make anyone break down, sob and reach for his pocketbook.

Not long ago a magazine selling crew visited Sedalia. Among the devices used to get their foot in the door for an interview and sales approach was to feign personal acquaintanceship.

The door bell rings. The woman of the house answers. The solicitor greets her: "Oh, how are you Mrs. Smythe? (She got the name out of a telephone book) It's been a long time since I met you last. May I come in?"

Once inside the house, there finally comes a casual admission of mistaken identity—but the pitch to sell magazines or some other product begins with real steam up.

Utterly amazing is the manner in which these people are received into area homes, and how their prospects are persuaded to turn loose of cash for bargains that really are not bargains at all.

Misrepresentation by these transients has become so commonplace and complaints so numerous that the federal government is considering cracking down on the persons who indulge in this objectionable activity.

But really this ought not to be necessary. People who are approached by phony cut rate salesmen, only to be skinned, could stop this by not being so gullible.

Senior citizens, and younger ones also, could learn to say no more frequently, or to shut the door quietly in the face of saleswomen or salesmen who become impudent when the lady-of-the-house won't let them in. It happens in Sedalia.

They Never Grew Up

One of the most distressing, and increasingly frequent, maladies physicians have to diagnose is the "battered child syndrome." What kind of person—what kind of parent—could beat a child, sometimes to death?

A recent study made at Forbes Air Force Base, Kan., attempted to answer this question. Involved were 12 service couples whose children exhibited the now classic maltreatment syndrome.

It was found that all of the offending couples displayed immature personalities and the inability to accept the role of responsible parents. They were egocentric, demanding people who reacted violently if their wishes were thwarted. Mothers were guilty almost as often as fathers.

In almost every case, some trivial behavior of the child's triggered the violence. But behind the outbursts lay economic and

IRS Mysterious About CIA Money

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The manner in which the CIA was able to hush up its channeling of public funds to tax-exempt foundations was partially brought to light by Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., back in 1964.

Patman did his best to dig into the CIA mystery but ran into a stone wall. Here is what happened when he cross-examined Internal Revenue officials on Aug. 31, 1964:

Patman — "On August 10 I asked you to explain the fact that the IRS has taken no action on the Kaplan Fund for several years, despite the fact that millions of dollars of tax liabilities may be involved."

"Mr. Rogovin (assistant to IRS Commissioner Caplin) indicated that the fund's operations with the CIA was the reason for the lack of action on the part of the IRS. Have you brought the file with you, Mr. Harding?"

Bertrand Harding (acting IRS head)—"I have not brought the file. It was my understanding . . . that it would be improper for me to comment on the material in that file."

Patman — "We want you to produce the file and, of course, there are ways we can do that. One is by a request, and the other is by a subpoena. I do not think you would want a subpoena issued for the file. Are you going to produce it for us?"

Harding — "Well, the investigative file is in New York."

Patman — "We made it rather plain that we wanted to have it at this time. We are going to have to request you to produce that file. Will you do it?"

Harding — "I would like to consult and answer that question later."

Let The CIA Answer

Rogovin — "The Revenue Service's action with respect to the Kaplan Fund has not been terminated, nor have we changed our legal opinion because of the CIA. That was a sensitive matter; we were dealing with it in a sensitive fashion and there was some time delay as a result."

Patman — "In view of the fact that the Kaplan Fund has been under investigation by the IRS for a number of years prior to the CIA Kaplan Fund-IRS arrangement, can you tell us why the CIA chose this fund to operate as a conduit for channeling funds?"

Rogovin — "I believe that would best be answered by a representative of the CIA."

Patman — "Is there a representative of the CIA here?"

Harding — "Not to my knowledge, sir."

Patman — "Did you tell Milan Miskovsky (a CIA official who talked to the IRS about the Kaplan Fund) that the fund was in trouble with IRS?"

Rogovin — "Yes, sir."

Patman — "And he is the only one at CIA that you dealt with?"

Rogovin — "No, I dealt with the general counsel, Lawrence Houston."

Patman — "How much money did the CIA channel through the J. M. Kaplan Fund, do you know?"

Rogovin — "No, I do not."

Was The Law Violated?

Patman — "The IRS has the responsibility to see that a foundation's funds are used in accordance with the law. Has the IRS examined the Kaplan Fund to determine whether the CIA funds — which are, of course, public funds — were actually disbursed by the Kaplan Fund? Mr. Harding, will you answer that?"

Harding — "Not to my knowledge."

Patman — "You have not gone into that at all?"

Harding — "No, sir; I have not."

Patman — "You have no knowledge of it?"

Harding — "I have no knowledge of it."

Patman — "A few days after our August 10 hearing, Mr. George Cary, who described himself as assistant legislative counsel of the CIA called on me. He stated that the Kaplan Fund has been used as a conduit for channeling CIA funds, but he knew very little about it."

Rogovin — "I spoke to Mr. Miskovsky and advised him of the questioning and what I had spoken to you in confidence about."

Patman — "I, too, considered it confidential. But when they promise information which they never follow through with—then, I feel that they are trifling with me and I no longer have any obligation to them."

"Our study of the Kaplan Fund's operations indicates a large possible tax liability, as well as violations of treasury regulations and abuse of its public trust. . . . I, personally, have the conviction that the expenditure of public funds is the public's business."

Patman presented Kaplan Fund tax returns for 1961, 1962 and 1963 in which there was no mention of receipt of CIA money. He also submitted evidence showing that the fund had received contributions from various groups.

Patman — "The addresses of these donors do not appear on the (Kaplan) fund's tax returns, despite the fact that such information is required by treasury regulations. . . . will you submit the addresses right away, by tomorrow?"

Harding — "If we can locate the returns. The returns were never located."

The Meaning of Lent

Muhammad Ali and Lent

A lot of people smirked when heavyweight champion Cassius Clay changed his name to Muhammad Ali. Not many laughed, however, when he applied for draft deferment as a minister of the Black Muslim religion.

Ringside theologians later admitted that his punch was as big as his mouth but no one on the sports page gave a second thought to his beliefs. Same with the religion page.

Perhaps the Christian should ask at this point if the ecumenical discussion club is large enough to have guests who radically differ from the regular membership.

It really is no longer a big deal for Catholics and Protestants to share services and mutual projects. What would be refreshing, during the Lenten season, would be a personal effort on your part to attend, listen to, consider the beliefs and convictions of those not your own.

Frankly, I believe that considerable spiritual strength would be gained if Presbyterians would look in on a Christian Science Reading Room, if Roman Catholics attended a Quaker meeting, or if Mormons went to an Episcopal evensong.

Jesus Christ spoke of an abundant life. This promise is fulfilled in many ways. Bobby Richardson has his approach, Cardinal Cushing another, and Muhammad Ali, that of the Black Muslims. When honest discussion and inquiry abound, Lent is honored through spiritual renewal.

Supreme Court Loses Clearest Writer

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court will lose its clearest and best-organized writer when Justice Tom C. Clark retires, sometime before the end of June.

Yet, he has had small recognition for the clarity of the opinions he wrote, perhaps because he was less colorful or controversial than some of the other eight justices.

Now 67 and on the bench since 1949, Clark announced Tuesday his decision to step down after President Johnson named his son, Ramsey Clark, 39, attorney general. The younger Clark had been acting attorney general.

Justice Clark's reason for leaving: to avoid any conflict of interest since the Justice Department, under his son, will be handling Supreme Court cases.

The present court, for courage and the tremendous impact of its decisions in the past 12 years, is probably the greatest in American history. But most of the justices still write opinions in the fashion of 75 or 100 years ago.

In short, those opinions lack precision, self-discipline, good organization and therefore the kind of easy clarity the court could but doesn't achieve. As a result, most of the opinions are a complex scramble.

Clark's opinions, when he was writing for the majority or dissenting, got to the point in a hurry, stating the case, background, opinion, and the reason for it.

The court has been told privately and publicly that it could and should do better writing but it won't change. Thus, from a literary view, it justly could be called reactionary.

Clark was the court's real middle-man. He could never be flatly identified as liberal or conservative. He moved from one side to the other, depending on the case, although it seems fair to say he was frequently very conservative.

He was part of the court which in 1954 outlawed public school segregation. But in 1957, in two very important cases involving communism, he was the lone dissenter when the court voted twice 6 to 1.

In one, the court overthrew the contempt conviction of a man who fully answered questions by the House Committee on Un-American Activities about himself but refused to answer about Communists he might have known.

The court ruled Congress has no right to try to expose for exposure's sake, thus narrowing the scope of committee investigations.

In the other the court made a sharp distinction between trying to overthrow the government by force and simply talking about trying to do so.

The court ruled just talking about it wasn't outlawed.

Yet, in 1963 Clark wrote the majority opinion banning the compulsory reading of prayers in public schools.

But in 1964 he was one of the three justices against the majority opinion ordering reapportionment of a state legislature so that citizens of a state got more equal representation.

He wrote the majority opinion in 1965, saying the Civil Rights Act of 1964 wiped out pending state prosecution of sit-in demonstrators. And that same year he wrote the 5-4 decision which, in effect, barred televised trials.

In 1966 he dissented from the decision making it far tougher than ever for police in questioning suspects but he was with the majority in upholding important parts of the 1965 Voting Rights Act.

In 1966 he was part of the majority which banned poll taxes as a prerequisite in state voting.

Q's and A's On Tax Matters

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — Hospital insurance is a deductible expense, isn't it? One of your agents has disallowed this deduction which I had taken.

A — Cost of hospitalization insurance is deductible as a medical expense only when these expenses are itemized. Some taxpayers erroneously list hospitalization under "other" expenses where it is not subject to the 3 per cent floor or medical expenses. Perhaps this is what happened in your case.

Q — I am retiring and will be moving into an apartment. If we give our furniture away can we claim this as a charitable deduction?

A — You can if you give it to a charitable organization such as Goodwill or the Salvation Army. The fair market value of the furniture at the time of the donation should be used to determine how much may be deducted.

Q — Is it true that IRS will figure out your tax for you when you file the short form?

A — Yes, if your income is less than $5,000 and Form 1040A is filed then IRS will compute your tax if you wish. We will refund any overpayment of $1.00 or more or bill you for any additional tax due. A refund of less than $1.00 will not be made unless you attach a separate application to your return requesting it.

Q — What can be deducted by salesmen for the cost of operating a car?

A — You may be entitled to deduct 10 cents a mile for the first 15,000 miles of business use and 7 cents a mile thereafter if you qualify, or you may deduct the actual cost of oper-

Printing Office Expands Into Retail Book Fields

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The Government Printing Office, which last year sold 66.6 million publications at an average price of 22 cents, is gradually expanding into the retail bookstore business.

"We might get some flak from the (commercial) bookstores," said James Harrison, whose title is Public Printer "but we're really not competitive with them."

Plans of the 72-year-old agency to make its publications available at its own stores in cities other than Washington is a sharp change in direction. Not long ago it had just one store, in its own building in Washington.

The change comes in response to a directive from President Johnson to heads of agencies asking them to explore ways in which they could improve their services to the public.

Partly as a result, the Printing Office now has four stores and another planned in Washington, another in operation in Chicago, and plans for a big, ground level store in Kansas City. All will be in federal buildings.

Beyond these three cities, the agency is playing it by ear. But federal buildings abound, and most of the new ones have large open spaces in their lobbies, the kind of location suitable for book display.

"As long as we've got federal buildings we should make use of them," said Harrison.

"If we find the demand is there and Congress clamors we would also consider taking space in a commercial building. We feel this information belongs to the public and should be made available."

There have been few solid reasons for not going into the bookstore business in a large way before. It simply wasn't done, perhaps for fear of criticism from commercial booksellers.

Instead, for many years the Printing Office concentrated its retail activities in a store on the ground floor of its main Washington building and in a mail order business.

This mail order business is huge. The Printing Office claims one million subscribers for its selected list of important government publications, issued 30 times a year. Thousands more subscribe to lists in specific categories.

Nevertheless, all this material also had been available at wholesale to commercial booksellers, the concept being that since the publications were printed for the public they should be as widely distributed as possible. But there has been little acceptance from the commercial booksellers.

For one thing, the 27,000 Government Printing Office titles would present an enormous inventory problem for any bookstore. For another, most titles sell at a very low price. The profit potential apparently is not there.

In addition, the commercial sellers generally have rejected as too small the 25 per cent discount given on wholesale orders. They want, instead, a discount closer to 40 per cent.

Some publishers have, however, managed a seemingly more acceptable profit by reproducing the government works, which is their right, and selling them at prices higher than in the government catalogue.

Meanwhile, a Government Printing Office spokesman commented that the only recent expansion of orders from the regular retail outlets seems to be confined to college bookstores.

Homemakers Hear Talk On Care Of Flowers

The Black Jack Homemakers Club met Feb. 15 at the home of Mrs. Vernon Stice with ten members and one visitor, Mrs. Lloyd Lewellyn, present.

Mrs. Claude Page presided over the business meeting with Mrs. Frank Page, Jr., giving the devotional. Plans were made to have a "Pig in the Poke" sale at the next meeting.

An interesting talk on "Care and Culture of Flowers" was given by Mrs. Elmer Bass. A Valentine pottholder exchange was held. Mrs. Earl Oehrke led the group in several games. Cancer dressings were cut and made.

Pay Hike Measure Advanced

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — After wrestling with it for days the Missouri Senate finally advanced a bill Thursday to increase the salaries of all elected state officials from the governor down.

The governor's salary would be increased from $25,000 to $37,500 and the lieutenant governor's from $12,000 to $16,000.

The attorney general would go up from $15,000 to $25,000 but other state officials — auditor, treasurer and secretary of state — would be increased from $15,000 to $20,000.

Salaries of Supreme Court judges would go from $22,500 to $26,500 and a similar $4,000 increase would be granted appellate and circuit judges throughout the state.

The bill still must pass the Senate and get through the House, which is expected to have some different ideas.

For example the Senate bill sets legislative pay at $7,200 a year but the House already passed a $9,000 a year bill for the lawmakers. They get $4,800 now. The House passed a flock of bills in a busy morning session before both houses quit work for the weekend.

Included were bills to upgrade the requirements for a lifetime teacher's certificate, one to allow governments to set up ambulance service and one to require reflectorized license plates on cars and trucks.

New bills in the House included one to regulate psychologists and another to set up welfare study commission.

The Senate got a new one to require about 150,000 more motorbikes to have state licenses that cost $5 for three years. At present only those with motors of more than 10 horsepower must be licensed but this limit would be removed under the new measure.

Both houses come back to work Monday afternoon.

Daily Record

Area Fires

Pettis County fire fighters responded to two calls Thursday. The first, at 9:55 a. m., came from the Don Buller residence, Route 4, where a grass fire, apparently started by burning trash, was running out of control. About an acre of grass was burned off, but no damage was listed.

The second call came at 10:50 a. m. from the Carr residence, Route 2, where a brush fire was reported in progress. Firemen used one booster line, brooms and rags to put out the first fire and ran out a line of inch-and-a-half hose to put out the second blaze.

The Pettis County Fire Department made three calls for grass fires Thursday. The first of these was at 3 p. m., to the Holman residence on Route 2. Several acres were burned over, but there was no damage. The next call came at 4:05 p. m., when firemen were called to Rattlesnake Hill south of Smithton. The grass fire was caused by an overheated bulldozer. Several acres burned as well as the bulldozer and an old wagon. There was no estimate of damage available.

The final call came at 5:30 p. m., from Walnut Hills, but do to the fact that firemen were fighting another fire they were not able to respond. They did send someone to investigate the situation, and found the fire had been extinguished.

The Pettis County Sheriff's office reported Thursday that break-ins had occurred in Green Ridge, Houstonia, and in Johnson County, Wednesday night, and Thursday morning.

The thieves were not too successful in Green Ridge, as they tried to enter the following business's but failed: Morton's Grocery, Warren's Grocery and the Main Street Bar.

The thieves did gain entrance into the Palmer Barber Shop and the Missouri Seed Company, but failed to get anything for their efforts.

The thieves' only reward for their work in Green Ridge was the Green Ridge Lumber Co., where they took 50 pennies from the office of the manager, Robert Carlson.

After finding that Green Ridge wasn't to be too prosperous for thievery, they then turned their efforts to Houstonia. They had a little more success as they broke open a soda pop machine, and took about $6. They also got 30 cents from a cabinet, and a No-relo electric razor valued at $21.

It was also learned Thursday morning that several break-ins, similar to the ones which occurred in Pettis County, had also taken place in Johnson County during the same time span. Deputy Sheriff Jack Couts investigated the break-ins at Green Ridge and Houstonia. The Sheriff's office at Warrensburg investigated the break-ins in Johnson County.

Accidents

Two vehicles were damaged in a collision at 8:46 p. m. Tuesday in the 500 block on South Harrison.

Involved were a parked 1949 Chevrolet truck owned by J. A. Ream, 700 West Sixth, and a 1964 Chevrolet driven by Linda Sue McDaniel, 1021 South Grand.

The rear of the truck and the front of the car were reported damaged, police said. An earlier report carried in the Sedalia Democrat-Capital stated no damage had occurred to the truck.

Trooper Richard Joos investigated two minor accidents on North Highway 65, near the D and J junction, Thursday morning. Property damage was reported in both cases. Each accident involved only one vehicle.

Joos received the first call at 10 a. m. Thursday. His investigation for the Highway Patrol revealed that a 1966 Volkswagen driven south on the highway by Hazel M. Klar, 49, Columbia, left the highway after what she termed a "strong gust of wind" caught the vehicle, pushing it out of control.

The car was towed to Sedalia by Bacon's wrecker.

While Joos was investigating this accident, a passing motorist informed him of another accident north of the first one. The time of the second mishap was set at about 10:25 a. m.

Involved here was a 1966 Chevrolet driven north on the highway by Bryan C. Casey, 20, Kirksville, Casey, according to Joos, reported that as he crested a hill he pulled slightly to the right. The wheels of the car dropped off the pavement.

After getting back onto the road, the car crossed the highway, collided with an embankment and stopped in the ditch on the west side of the road.

Parks' wrecker towed the car to Sedalia.
